State Assistance Brings $20,000

Appropriations Schedule Favored By Supervisors

Tuberculosis Hospital Asks $20,000 Less; Other Expenditures in List Adopted

With the annual session of the Board of Supervisors drawing to a close, Supervisor Harry Snyder Wednesday evening moved to suspend Rule 6, Section 7, of the Board in order that resolutions calling for appropriations might be voted upon the same night, as introduced instead of laying over to the following meeting. Following this the Committee on Appropriations moved for adoption of a schedule of appropriations which included numerous large expenditures such as the Tuberculosis Hospital and County Auditor's Fund, each for $40,000; Postwar Construction Fund, also $40,000 and an appropriation of $41,000 for the new County Board of Health. Various welfare funds were also made available.

For 1947, the Tuberculosis Hospital asked and was granted $40,000, this being $28,000 less than for the past year. The sum of $40,000 was added to the Postwar Construction Fund, bringing this fund up to $250,000 which is set aside for construction of a new county office building on Main street.

To be raised on the county outside the City of Kingston is $70,000 for Old Age Relief, a decrease of $35,000 over 1946. The Board Fund was also reduced to $5,000 from the 1946 $9,000.

Since the city welfare will come under the new county-wide set up, there were considerable increases in funds for this work. For maintenance of the County Home inmates, $43,000 was appropriated for 1947 against $16,000 for 1946. The Crippled Children Fund was increased from $18,000 to $26,000 and Welfare Administration was increased from $32,000 to $40,000 for the coming year.

A petition was received from the four District Superintendents of Schools asking for an additional $500 allowance each for travel expenses. The petition stated that the $500 allowed by the state was insufficient. The petition was filed and referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Baruch May Urge Positive Action

U. S. Delegate Is Elated Over Russian View of Veto's Use

Lake Success, N. Y., Dec. 5 (AP)—Bernard M. Baruch, elated over Soviet Russia's clearly enunciated attitude that the veto must not hinder inspection and control organizations watching over world arms limitation, was expected today to urge swift and positive action toward curbing atomic energy for peaceful uses.

Baruch, the United States delegate on the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission, was said to have prepared a statement and some resolutions for presentation at an important policy-making meeting of the Commission (6 p. m. E.S.T.).

Just what he will propose has been closely guarded by the delegate, but observers pointed out that the United States wants action on the atomic question.

It was said to be especially the Russian minister, made a statement yesterday which United Nations delegates had awaited for a considerable time.

Baruch got down to brass tacks in his inspection and control features of disarmament when he said that unless he accepts this theory and names Republicans to vacancies which occur on such commissions, he may encounter difficulty in obtaining confirmation of executive department appointments, including those to the diplomatic service.

Two Persons Killed
Corpus Christi, Tex., Dec. 5 (AP)—A tremendous explosion at a gas company plant, which was heard for 30 miles, killed at least two persons and injured five today.

Dr. Joseph Jacobson Will Serve Next Year as Thoracic Surgeon at TB Hospital; Seeley Gives Annual Report

State aid for operation of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital during 1947 will greatly decrease the amount of local aid needed and the Board of Managers in the annual report, submitted by the Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley, president, to the Board of Supervisors Wednesday, asked for an appropriation of $48,000 for 1947, a decrease of $20,000 over the 1946 appropriation.

This decreased appropriation comes in the face of greatly increased costs of operation due to higher cost of employment and also

Reece Says Party Should Be Boss

His Announcement Gives Indication Battle Will Come

Washington, Dec. 5 (AP)—Republican chairman Carroll Reece declared today that his party should be given majority control of independent agencies created by Congress, such as the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Reece's contention, advanced in his report to the Republican National Committee meeting here, apparently presaged a battle between the G.O.P. senate and President Truman over future appointments to such commissions.

By law, many agencies such as the I.C.C. are declared to be "bipartisan." When one has five members, for instance, the practice has been that a Democratic President would appoint three Democrats and two Republicans as members to fulfill the clause requiring bipartisan representation.

Under Reece's contention, the line-up would become three Republicans and two Democrats.

Declaring that the nation demands "the closest kind of cooperation between the executive branch and the Republican Congress," Reece insisted that the Interstate Commerce, Federal Trade and Communications Commissions, as well as similar agencies are creatures of Congress and thus should reflect in their policies the Republicans' November victory at the polls.

"In each case," he said in a prepared address, "the Congress provided that such agencies should be bipartisan, meaning in practice that the majority of the commission should be composed of members of the party which held a majority in Congress."

"I am of course, speaking only of those commissions and other agencies which were set up to administer delegated legislative authority—not those responsible primarily to the President."

G.O.P. committeemen who scanned Reece's words said it seemed obvious that the chairman was serving notice on President Truman that unless he accepts this theory and names Republicans to vacancies which occur on such commissions, he may encounter difficulty in obtaining confirmation of executive department appointments, including those to the diplomatic service.

4 False Imprisonment Claims Made Upon State

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 5 (AP)—Four false imprisonment claims totaling $408,750 have been filed against the state since June when the late Bertram M. Campbell was awarded $115,000 as the result of 40 months' incarceration in Sing Sing for a crime he did not commit.

The new actions are awaiting hearings in the Court of Claims. Claimants and sums asked: Reuben R. Bass, Albany, $50,000; Samuel D. White, Lowman, $100,000; Joseph J. Tworzyński, (120 First ave.) Huntington Station, Long Island, $150,000; and Philip Caruso, Brooklyn, $108,750.

Campbell, formerly a Wall Street securities salesman, died September 7, at the age of 60. Three months after the Court of Claims had awarded him damages for humiliation, loss of liberty, and loss of earnings during his confinement in Sing Sing for a forgery conviction.

He had received a full pardon in 1945 from Governor Dewey, when another man admitted the forgery.

Tworzyński alleged that he

Bitterness Is Feeling of Mine Crews

Let U. S. Attorneys Dig Damn Coal, Is How One Man Puts It, Fine or No Fine

Pittsburgh, Dec. 5 (AP)—Bitterly indignant A.F.L.-United Mine Workers today indicated the government-levied $3,500,000 fine would do little toward ending their 15-day-old strike that has already idled another 172,000 persons and threatens the nation with complete economic paralysis.

"Let the government attorneys dig the damn coal," cried Bill Jones of the Gibson mine at Bentleyville, Pa., "We won't go back until Lewis tells us to. Fine or no fine."

Blames Democrats

Fine, Another Says, Is Plot by Democrats Against Union

Four Washington county locals in western Pennsylvania reacted to the penalty by sending blank checks to U.M.W. headquarters in Washington with succinct instructions to "fill out the amount necessary to pay the fines."

Union leaders across the state also denounced the fine as a "plot by the Democrats to destroy the U.M.W. Oklahoma-Arkansas district, termed the penalties an attempt to destroy the U.M.W. and said it "invites the thug system and yellow-dog contracts again to be placed in the mining camps of the country."

President William Blizard of U.M.W. District 17 in West Virginia declared the fine is "part of a plot by the Democratic party to destroy the union." He added the rank-and-file miners are "battered."

Roland Hayes Sings At Auditorium Tonight

Roland Hayes, outstanding Negro tenor, is scheduled to give his recital of classical compositions for Emanuel Baptist Church, tonight at 8 o'clock in the municipal auditorium, where music lovers of Kingston and the surrounding area are expected to gather in great numbers to hear him.

The Rev. Philip Saunders, pastor of the church, has expressed himself as very appreciative of the famous singer's coming to Kingston, not only as a famous singer, but as a leader of his race in the cultural field.

Chosen as the first Negro artist in the world of music to represent his people in the 75th anniversary of the 13th Amendment celebrated on December 21, 1940, in the nation's capital, Roland Hayes was heard by a distinguished audience in the concert hall of the Library of Congress.

Command performances before King George and Queen Mary are among his treasured memories.

Union Carpenters Get $1.75 Hourly; Scale Is in Effect

General Laborers Receive $1.25 Rate in County; Is Increase Over October Figure

The new wage scale of $1.75 an hour for union carpenters in Ulster county is in effect.

The Wage Stabilization Board set $1.65 and $1.15 as the local hourly scale in October but the various carpenters' union immediately appealed the decision, pointing out the higher wage scales in effect in other Hudson valley cities.

Contractors represented at Monday's meeting were Slover, Jansen and Schline, currently engaged in the Loughran Park state housing project; Schatzel Brothers, Earl Siedler, Colonial Contracting Company and the Kingston Construction Company.

Ray Conway, who has the plumbing contract at the state housing project, negotiated with the labor unions.

Union officials expressed satisfaction with the new wage increases but pointed out that Kingston and Ulster county are still below mid-Hudson valley levels. Union spokesmen said the hourly pay for carpenters in Poughkeepsie was hiked from $1.75 to $1.90 last week, with a $2.00 scale scheduled to go in effect on January 1.

To Build University

Hiroshima, Dec. 5 (AP)—This atomic bombed city has been chosen as the site of a new Christian University of Japan by Dr. K. Dumbaugh of the American Foreign Mission of the Far East. Kyodo News Agency reported today. Kyodo said one Hiroshima resident had offered his property to the project.

Longchamps Counsel Plans To Restrain Liquor Authority

New York, Dec. 5 (AP)—Counsel for the Longchamps restaurants announced he would ask the state supreme court today for an injunction restraining the State Liquor Authority from enforcing its order cancelling the licenses of liquor licensees on the ground it permitted the sale of liquor on credit.

An injunction—if obtained—would be effective for 30 days.

J. Bertram Wegman, representing the chain, also said he would ask for a supreme court injunction to review Wegman's suit.

"I cannot believe that the court will allow the S.L.A. to ruin a $2,000,000 business and throw 2,000 employees out of work on such trifling charges as undoubtedly never even would have been contemplated but for the publicity attached to the Longchamps name."

Concerning the sale of alcoholic beverages at wholesale, Wegman said liquor was purchased at wholesale from licensed distributors by the principal Longchamps corporation and then apportioned among the various restaurants.

The charges of violating the state liquor laws were filed against the restaurants after the completion of Henry Lustig, president of the chain, and two aides on charges of evading payment of $2,126 in federal income taxes. Lustig was sentenced to four years in prison and fined $115,000. He is now on bail pending an appeal.

Small Resigns His C.P.A. Post

President Accepts: C.P.A. Will Be Transferred to Overall Agency

Washington, Dec. 5 (AP)—John D. Small, Civilian Production Administration, has resigned.

The White House said today that President Truman has accepted Small's resignation, effective at the close of business tomorrow, December 6.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told newsmen today Small has been trying to resign for some time.

Since remaining C.P.A. functions, along with those of U.P.A. and other emergency agencies are to be transferred to an overall liquidation agency, Ross said the president concurred in Small's request to return to private industry.

The Small resignation follows by a day that of Wilson Wyatt as housing administrator. There had been differences between the two on policies for building materials.

Ross said progress toward formation of the liquidation agency was proceeding rapidly.

In his letter of resignation, Small said he believed that the

Judge Says New Action May Follow

Lewis Ponders Whether to Appeal or Adopt Tactics of Delay in Coal Strike

Washington, Dec. 5 (AP)—John L. Lewis, continuing his relentless throttle on soft coal production, conferred with his lawyers today on whether the United Mine Workers should answer their $3,500,000 contempt judgment with a "try and get it."

As the conference went forward at U.M.W. headquarters—and the industry-strangling coal strike showed no signs of abating—it became known that President Truman will appeal directly to the miners.

Officials close to the president said he will broadcast his appeal within a few days, possibly Sunday night.

Questions confronting the Lewis legal battery included:

Whether to appeal or adopt delaying tactics. The legal staff left no doubt that an appeal will be taken, but the timing was problematical.

The prospect of a new contempt citation, if Lewis continues to ignore Judge Goldsborough's reaffirmed order to call off the strike, is a possibility of prosecution under the Smith-Connally Act, which makes it a penal offense to incite or encourage strikes against the government.

Sitting in on the union conference was Secretary-Treasurer Thomas Kennedy, former lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania on whom will rest the responsibility of raising the bond if Lewis decides to ignore the court order.

Kennedy has reported the union's treasury is good for $13,500,000.

Joseph A. Padway, A.F.L. counsel who joined Lewis' staff for this momentous legal showdown, said yesterday in court that the union may let the government try to collect the fine in any way it sees fit.

Padway made it clear the union does not intend to "dispossess" itself of its holdings.

There was still a chance that Lewis might decide to call off the strike, which began November 21 after "termination" by Lewis of his contract with the government.

The U.M.W. risks a $250,000 additional fine every day that the strike continues in defiance of a temporary injunction which Goldsborough issued yesterday.

Lewis also is risking a jail term which he escaped yesterday. Goldsborough said he thought a prison sentence would be proper for Lewis, but bowed to the government recommendation for a fine instead.

From every outward indication, the bushy-browed miners leader was determined to take jail, or what may come, rather than yield to a court order he contends is illegal and withdraw his termination of the U.M.W.'s contract with the government.

With this grim deadlock confronting the country, a group of railway unions issued a plea that Lewis and the government call the whole thing off and let a presidential commission settle all issues.

The Railway Labor Executives' Association said it would support such a move.

Dr. James Says County Budget for 1947 Is $132,000; State Pays Share

The Ulster County Board of Health Holds Its Second Meeting

The Ulster County Board of Health held its second meeting at the State Health office at 61 Albany avenue and the budget for the new Ulster County Health Department was approved in line item form within the appropriation made by the Board of Supervisors. The next meeting of the Board will be held Tuesday, December 10, when final consideration will be given to budget items.

Under the new set up which will become effective on January 1 and both the county and city health departments come under one head, it is expected that there will be a money saving of at least $7,000 with considerably greater health facilities being offered the public.

$132,000 for Year

Asked today as to the total budget for the county and city health work for 1947, Dr. George James, County Commissioner, said that the total Health budget was $132,000, of which the county's share would be $11,000 and that under the old system the county's share would have been $48,000 and it was stated that under the new system greater facilities would be offered the public. Under the new state law the state will refund to the county 75 per cent of the first $100,000 of cost. This will mean a refund of $75,000 from the state on $100,000, leaving the county's share of the cost $25,000. For the remaining $32,000 of the total cost the state will refund 50 per cent, or $16,000 and the county's share of that sum will be an equal amount. Thus the county's share of the total cost will be $25,000 on the first $100,000 plus $16,000 on the amount over $100,000 for a total cost to the taxpayers of $41,000.

In this cost for public health will not be included the cost of operation of the Tuberculosis Hospital for which an appropriation of $40,000 was made by the Board of Supervisors or the city laboratory costs which are borne by the city of Kingston plus an appropriation of $15,000 by the county, half of which is refunded by the state to the county.

Three Are Appointed

The County Health Board made three appointments to positions on the professional staff.

Miss Adele Didrickson was named director of Public Health Nursing. As director, Miss Didrickson will have charge of a staff of about 17 public health nurses, plus those employed by the local townships. It is expected that she will also have on her staff a health educator and a dental hygienist. Miss Didrickson has been in Ulster county as district supervising nurse for a year and a half. She came to this county from Mass. where she was left to take a position in the Albany office. She has had 16 years public health nursing experience, two years as an assistant supervising nurse and five as a district supervising nurse. Miss Didrickson is a graduate of Norwegian Hospital School of Nursing with a Bachelor of Science Degree from Columbia University, majoring in Public Health Supervision. Also she had advanced maternity nursing at Maternity Center Association and orthopedic nursing for

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

He Learned
Portland, Me., Dec. 5 (AP)—A. L. Somers, who sold Portland's recently-installed parking meters, called on City Manager Lyman S. Moore yesterday to find out how they were working out. He spent nearly an hour listening to Moore laud the meters, but he didn't get the whole story until he left.

Stranded
Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 5 (AP)—The Navy is praying for rain in Arizona so it can rescue one of its seaplanes.

The plane, a Catalina flying boat, made a forced landing October 19 on Carl Pleasant Lake, 40 miles north of here. The lake, which serves as a reservoir, kept dropping. By the time a new engine on the plane was installed, the reservoir was little more than a puddle.

Two sailors live in the plane and maintain it in flying condition for the day when rains add 20 feet of water to the nearly dry lake.

Repeat Performance?
Chillicothe, Mo., Dec. 5 (AP)—It's beginning to look like history might repeat itself in the current coal strike and force Chillicothe citizens to resort to another wood-cutting bee.

Just 27 years ago today another coal strike sent 400 residents, armed with axes, into the timber where they cut 100 cords of wood in one day, enough to tide the city over the fuel famine.

Remember Meat Shortage?
Chicago, Dec. 5 (AP)—R. C. Pollock, superintendent of the International Live Stock Exposition's meat division, viewed with a butcher's eye the more than 10,000 cattle, sheep and swine on display.

He saw 556,000 steaks, 143,000 port chops and 152,000 lamb chops. In addition, Pollock said, there are thousands of pounds more future roasts, steaks and hamburgers.

Recalling the recent meat shortage he estimated there was a total of 3,500,000 pounds of meat—on the hoof.

New Dairylea Plant

The Dairymen's League Co-operative Association's new Manhattan milk plant, capable of handling enough milk for a half-million consumers daily, will be formally opened Tuesday, December 10. Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson will come to New York city to speak at a farm leaders' dinner in connection with the dedication program.

Replacing the old 19th Street plant, now being razed to make way for a housing project, the newest milk distributing center was built cooperatively by the League's 26,000 farmer-members. It completes a chain of five League plants in the Metropolitan area. The others are in lower New York city, Elizabeth, the Bronx and Newark.

Members of the League have built the new Manhattan plant as a needed outlet for their milk and to serve consumers better in the Metropolitan area.

Paula Welden Missing
From Bennington College

Bennington, Vt., Dec. 5 (AP)—A sheriff's posse joined college officials and students today in a foot-by-foot search of treacherous trails of ice-coated Glastonbury mountain in hopes of finding Paula Welden, 18, Bennington College student, who has been missing since Sunday.

The report of a motorist, Louis Knapp, that he had driven a girl resembling Miss Welden as far as his home at the entrance to Long Trail at the base of the mountain pumped new life into the hunt for the pretty blonde daughter of a Stamford, Conn., industrial engineer.

Sections of the trail were covered unsuccessfully by searchers yesterday.

At least six other persons have reported that they saw a girl answering Miss Welden's description in the vicinity of the trail. Small footprints that hunters believed might have been made by the girl also have been found midway up the mountain on Blue Trail, a pathway leading off Long Trail.

Meanwhile, Fall River, Mass., police reported they were conducting a "routine" investigation of a report that a girl with features similar to Miss Welden had been seen in the city early in the week. They said the report was telephoned into headquarters, that there was "no positive identification" and that it was "something we could not get too enthused about."

THE SAME INSIDE

After teaching for many years in Germantown Friends School outside of Philadelphia, Emilie Bradbury went to Poland for the American Friends Service Committee to distribute clothing donated by Americans. She wrote back to her six-graders who themselves with their parents and neighbors had collected some of those supplies for the suffering Poles. She told them of loading two trucks with 20 bales of clothing for men, women and children, and a dozen boxes of shoes.

"The children who came for the clothes—'children like you except that they were barefoot and there was snow on the ground'—constantly asked questions about American children.

"I always answered by describing you to them so they would see how much you are alike. Dress is different, some of their customs and food, too. But after all our insides are the same."

This was the conception the framers of the Declaration of Independence had when they wrote "All men are created equal." The Philadelphia school teacher expressed it by saying "all our insides are the same." Whenever words are used, this is the theme song of democracy, music all the world's people long to hear—except its Hitler.

FERTILE ALASKA

It has become a commonplace to speak of Alaska as the last frontier for Americans, and to speak of it as ideal farming country, but most people still need a good deal of selling on the idea.

Herbert Hilscher, writing in the December Rotarian, tells of an interview with George W. Gasser, Commissioner of Agriculture for Alaska, in which he said that in 40 years there had never been a crop failure in standard varieties of grain in the interior of that territory. It would be hard to equal this record in any other locality. The latest development of agricultural experimenters is a kind of barley which requires only 66 days to mature from seed to crop.

Experts say that a successful farming family with $4,000 as capital can become self-supporting in Alaska after the first year's harvest. Impecunious fugitives from the dust-bowl, they say, could probably not make good there, but competent farmers who want a change of environment and have courage and adaptability backed with reasonable capital would be likely to be successful in this form of pioneering.

WASHINGTON AND LEE

The sixth oldest American university is about to celebrate its 200th anniversary. This is Washington and Lee at Lexington, Va., which is campaigning to raise $3,000,000 to commemorate its 200th year in 1949.

Beginning as Augusta Academy, it was renamed Liberty Hall in the patriotic enthusiasm of the Revolution. George Washington gave $50,000 to aid it, and in his honor it was called successively Washington Academy and Washington College. When Gen. Robert E. Lee became its president after the Civil War it took its present name. Among its many distinguished graduates may be named John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for president in 1924 and now general chairman of the bicentennial committee, and Arthur W. McCain, president of the Chase National Bank of New York.

Despite its age, Washington and Lee is not the oldest college in Virginia. That distinction belongs to William and Mary, founded in 1693.

PHIL MURRAY'S CONSCIENCE

Obviously, it has become habitual not only in the United States but in most countries, for men, in pursuit of private doctrine or personal power, to wreck the world about them. It is the major disease of our generation. Hitler and Mussolini were the most advertised of this type; and now we think of John L. Lewis as representing it. For there can be no cause, no doctrine, no theory of the relationship of labor union to nation, or labor to the rest of the population, that can justify Lewis' cynical disregard of the statistics, to say nothing of the morals, of national welfare.

Phil Murray has broken no law in his hoax of permitting the impressions to go abroad that he has done something about the Communists in the C.I.O., when actually he has strengthened their position. He brought the Communist issue to the fore, made it climactic, and knocked it down with the tender care of an actress-mother who softens the blow at an actress-child. And this was done by a man who pretends to be governed by his conscience.

Shakespeare must have known Phil Murray, for he describes his present politics so aptly: "The enemy increaseth every day; We, at the height, are ready to decline. There is a tide in the affairs of men, Which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune; Omitted, all the voyage of their life Is bound in shallows and in miseries. On such a full sea are we now afloat; And we must take the current when it serves, Or lose our ventures."

See how fancifully Mr. Murray wove his argument. The convention would discuss the Communist question, admitting for the first time that there is one. But there would be no purge of Communists "for the present anyway." There would be a resolution resenting interference by Communists and "others"—the others not stipulated. But the resolution would be drawn up by a Committee of six, three of whom are Communists. And every Communist in the Convention voted for the resolution—why not?

"Sticks and stones Will break my bones, But names will never hurt me."

The Communist "Daily Worker" reported concerning the resolution that it "will eliminate debate on the 'red issue' or cut discussion upon it to a minimum." In a word, it was a bone thrown to the Americans in the C.I.O. Further, the "Daily Worker" reported:

"At the final Board meeting, it was learned, members questioned Murray regarding its meaning and were assured that it means no 'purges' or interference on the right of members to believe politically as they choose."

And after all this, their convention passed a resolution, upholding the Russian and denouncing the American foreign policy. It was a show of strength; it proved who is the master.

The C.I.O. is not, of course, a Communist organization. Most of its membership is American and anti-Communist. And there is a progressive wing which is not even a majority of numbers Communist. By the stretch of the imagination can Phil Murray be regarded as a Communist or even as a Left-Wing Progressive, but he has become the captive of a fear—the fear of another schism, another split. The real danger of a split is more on the Left Wing than the Right. For the sake of unity, it is essential to keep the Left Wing in line. Therefore, all concessions must be made to the Left Wing. Therefore, the virtual administrative director of the C.I.O.—and now a member of Phil Murray's union, although not a steel worker—is Lee Pressman, the General Counsel of the C.I.O. The propounder of the intellectual position of the C.I.O. is Len DeCaux. And the 16 Communist heads of unions have a major voice in the affairs of the C.I.O. for beyond their numbers, Murray dares not risk a break with them.

It is a tough position for a man with a conscience, but one from which he cannot now extricate himself. At the last C.I.O. convention, Phil Murray has knocked himself out morally. And he has to live with that fact. (Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WHOOPIING COUGH

Despite the advice of health departments and family physicians many parents hesitate about having their six-month old infant injected with vaccine to prevent whooping cough. If these parents realized that whooping cough can be prevented and that an attack of whooping cough in young infants can result in nervous or behavior symptoms later in life there would not be this hesitation.

In the Journal of the American Medical Association we read that "It is now the consensus that phase I pertussis vaccine of the proper concentration and dosage will confer prolonged active immunity to children if the vaccine has been kept properly refrigerated and if the injection is begun after the sixth month of life." Three doses of the vaccine are given in alternate arms at monthly intervals.

What about children vaccinated against whooping cough at three months of age? The records of one series of cases showed that some cases injected at three months of age developed whooping cough but none of them died.

What may surprise these parents who hesitate about having their infant injected against whooping cough is that infants are now injected against whooping cough, and against that dread disease, diphtheria, at the same time. This is the statement of Dr. Sauer the outstanding authority on whooping cough and its prevention. Because this fact of double immunization has become better known the percentage of parents permitting this double injection is increasing rapidly.

The infant should be at least 6 or 7 months of age before the first dose of the combined injections is given. Best results from the alum-precipitated mixture are obtained when three doses are injected at one or two month intervals.

What about treatment by vaccines in treating whooping cough?

Vaccines are of little or no value during an attack because a time interval of at least several weeks must elapse after the final dose of vaccine before sufficient antibodies—bodies that fight off disease—can develop.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOXLE

New York, Dec. 5 (AP)—Will German courts carry out their assigned responsibility to do-Nazify the American zone in Germany? History and human nature reply, "Probably not."

I was convinced during my recent stay in Germany that German judges are reluctant to take the personal responsibility of trying Nazis. On the other hand, American military government is reluctant to invest the money, men and time to do the job itself.

Here's the present status of the bogged-down post-war anti-Nazi campaign:

Last spring the American military government turned over to the German provisional government the task of trying and sentencing Nazi suspects.

Last month Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy U. S. military governor, angrily accused the German courts of "whitewashing" Nazi defendants on a large scale. He gave them sixty days to improve. He threatened that "if the German people are unwilling to do the job, the military government can and will do it."

World War I Incident

Well, let's see what the Germans did to punish their guilty after the last war. In 1919 German representatives solemnly signed an agreement to turn over 900 of their war criminals to the victorious allies.

But in 1920, after a storm of German protest, the victors agreed to permit the German supreme court at Leipzig to try the 900.

Of these suspects this high court subsequently refused to try 888. Of the dozen tried, only six were condemned. And of these six, said Emil Ludwig in 1943 in his book "How to Treat the Germans," three escaped prison within a few days and the last three "were confined to prison for some weeks."

That was what the world would witness tomorrow if it left the Nazi leaders to be sentenced by their German countrymen.

The Ludwig prediction is coming true now. The German courts cannot "whitewash" defendants on so large a scale as they did after the first World War, because this time they are under the direct mandate of a foreign military government in their own country. But they make every concession they can to their fellow nationals.

Goldborough Decision Is Regarded as Answer in Ext

These Who Told Government What to Do

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 5—The shock which had its impact on union leaders everywhere when Justice Goldborough imposed his fine of $350,000 on the United Mine Workers was not due to the size of the fine but to the fact that the government—especially the judicial branch—had the temerity to hold a labor union responsible for anything.

Labor union leaders have been telling the country for a long time that whatever they want must be granted by government and that no restraining hand can be laid upon them by anybody.

When any group in the nation preaches the doctrine of being above the law, extremes will ensue. Most of the miners think John L. Lewis is above the law and that their union can do anything it pleases. The theory that the nation cannot get coal except as the miners will to supply it implies a proprietorship over natural resources far more powerful than that of any owners.

Labor union leaders generally will doubtless rally to the support of the miners' union and will denounce the court which issued the decision, but this will only serve to emphasize the prevalent belief among labor chiefs that the unions and their leaders cannot be restrained under the Norris-LaGuardia anti-injunction law, or any other statute now in existence.

Mr. Lewis, in fact, insists that labor union rights are above the constitution, for he defied a court order which asked him to maintain things only temporarily until the issue could be heard in court. By refusing to abide by the restraining order, Mr. Lewis, in behalf of the miners' union, said in effect that no labor union must obey a court order today in a labor dispute.

Theoretically, the Lewis argument is that the Norris-LaGuardia anti-injunction law binds the hands of the government as well as of private owners. Where there is doubt as to the applicability of a law, a test case must be brought. Lewis, by his refusal to obey the order, was apparently of the belief that a temporary restraining order could not be constitutional if the Norris-LaGuardia Act applied. Justice Goldborough held that the anti-injunction statute didn't apply, and this left Lewis and the miners' union in the position of ignoring the restraining order altogether.

An appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States is being taken but, while lawyers differ as to the probable outcome of the litigation, it seems assured that the decision will be of far-reaching significance. The principle to be decided is whether, every time a statute is passed, there must be a specific mention of the inclusion or exclusion of the federal government from the provisions.

Some laws mention the federal establishment and some do not. When the Norris-LaGuardia Act was being considered by Congress, many members said during the debate that, of course, the government was not involved. It will be interesting to see the Supreme Court decide what was meant, though to be sure, the main issue may be whether it was necessary to specify government exemption at all.

The basic theory behind the non-mention idea is that the sovereign power of the government itself may be taken for granted no matter what the statutes say. Mr. Lewis, unfortunately for his case, has been on both sides of the issue, for recently in another litigation, he insisted that the miners were working for the federal government and were doing so by virtue of sovereign power.

Congress will certainly amend the Norris-LaGuardia Act to remove all doubt on this point, but this will not affect the outcome of the pending appeal which the miners' union is taking.

What comes next? The contempt proceedings and the fine of $250,000 per day were part of a program of steady pressure by the administration to persuade the miners' union to come to terms. That pressure continues and the miners' union faces disintegration if it insists on fighting the federal government. At any moment, Lewis may be expected to bow to the will of the government, send the miners back to work and start negotiations with the private owners through the government. That's his only way out.

BREAK UP LABOR MONOPOLIES

That was you hear in the left wing press to the effect that labor must not be deprived of its "hard-won collective bargaining rights" is about 90 per cent fraud.

"Labor" in the big unions has no more collective bargaining rights than a plowhand in Soviet Russia. It is Petrillo who speaks for the musicians; Lewis who speaks for the coal diggers. The subjects even vote to please the labor overlord in vital issues, such as whether to strike or not to strike.

And it is Petrillo and Lewis and their fellows of the ruling class raised up in the New Deal propaganda, who see that the roar of propaganda about collective bargaining rights does not wane, the purpose of this propaganda being to keep Congress from tampering with the labor laws now on the books.

These masters at public deception don't mention the fact that if a pick-and-shovel miner dared voice a demand the union would smack him down. They don't mention that fact that if the employer made a wage deal with one of the diggers instead of dealing through the union agent he would be a criminal under the Wagner Act.

Thus, in the Wagner Act, the federal government guarantees the union agents their dictatorial roles in speaking for employees.

Restore Freedom

One of the greatest single acts Congress could contribute to labor, management and the strike-ravaged public would be to prohibit an outside union agent from bargaining for employers or from in any way influencing their contract. This would restore to employees the freedom to bargain collectively with their employer.

This would enable them to sit down with him and work out their mutual problems without the interference and confusion, often purposeful and vicious, of a professional agent who must maintain his power and income by inciting hatred and forcing extreme demands.

This would make the strike leader, himself an employee, take his salary long along with fellow strikers (as John L. Lewis does now).

This would break up the vast monopolies which now fix wages, and therefore prices, across a whole industry. It would do much to restore free competition between firms. It would enable the owner to work out profit-sharing or incentive pay agreements with his employees—such systems now being discouraged by labor laws and the jealousy of paid union agents.

Unfortunately our politically minded Supreme Court, in several decisions, has exempted union road blockades under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act but Congress probably could circumvent that discrimination. Or the court might wake up and reverse itself.

Such a union as the United Mine Workers is a plain case of monopoly. If the owners agreed to fix coal prices they would be guilty of violating the Sherman law and likely would wind up behind the bars of a federal penitentiary. But one man dictates wages for all employees in the vast mines of the U.M.W., thus fixing retail prices in effect.

Reels Hate Company Unions

But for discrimination in favor of labor bosses, Petrillo might have been in the penitentiary long ago for controlling music and music prices throughout a whole industry.

If mine operators agreed to shut down to force higher prices they would be subject to court action on criminal charges, yet one labor boss can shut the mines and escape the charge of monopoly.

It doesn't make sense. The question is not so much "How shall we remedy our labor union war?" as it is: "Will Congress have the courage to do the job?"

Communists, of course, hate company unions because they set company can control them, and cause Karl Marx directed that all unions be lumped into one so it could rule the people. It is interesting to observe a statement written last week by William Z. Foster, national chairman of the Communist Party, on this subject: "Despite the Wagner Act," said Foster, "there are still many company unions. . . . It is not adequate merely to make head-on attacks against them. Particular attention must be paid to winning them from the inside. Recent American labor history is full of instances when company unions were either won over to the movement or broken up by the efforts of workers within them."

Let us hope Foster and his friends in the Political Action Committee no longer dictate labor laws of the land. (Copyright 1946 by John F. Dille, Co.)

Their next meeting will be held on December 16 at which time they will have their regular birthday party. Plans were made for the annual Christmas party which will be held on December 27.

Brooklyn Negro Youth Is Held for Shooting Woman

New York, Dec. 5 (AP)—A 16-year old boy was booked on a charge of homicide early today in connection with the shooting of Josephine Marra, 29-year old domestic, who was shot in the back while strolling on a Brooklyn street.

The young woman died early yesterday, more than 12 hours after she had been shot.

Police identified the youth as Lloyd Robertson, a negro. Miss Marra had told her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marra, she felt a stinging sensation in her back while walking to her house. Shortly after her arrival she lapsed into a coma and was taken to Cumberland Hospital where she died.

Deputy Inspector Howard O'Leary said Robertson told him he was on a roof Tuesday afternoon, shooting at street light bulbs and had fired a shot at the woman.

"I didn't mean to kill her," O'Leary quoted the youth as saying. "I don't know why I even aimed at her."

Motor Vehicle Deaths Increase in 1946

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 5 (AP)—Motor vehicle deaths in New York during the first nine months of 1946 were 18 per cent higher than a year ago and more than half the fatalities were pedestrians.

Clifford J. Fletcher, state motor vehicles commissioner, predicted today that on the basis of 1,381 deaths through September, 1946 fatalities would total "close to 2,100" compared with 1,763 last year and 2,661 in the last prewar year, 1941.

Fletcher urged motorists to prepare for "tricky winter driving conditions" and called for "more respect for traffic laws and safe driving rules to hold the line against accidents."

While motor fatalities were rising 18 per cent, personal injuries in accidents for the first nine months jumped 36 per cent over the same 1945 period, Fletcher reported. The injury toll of 71,000 compared with 54,700 last year.

Of the 1,381 fatalities, 745 were pedestrians. Fletcher said that 354 pedestrians died "because they violated one of two fundamental rules of safe walking"—114 were killed crossing streets against lights and 240 crossing streets between intersections.

Pressure Grows at U.N. Session at Lake Success

Lake Success, N. Y., Dec. 5 (AP)—Fatigue circles under the eyes are the badges today of every participant in the current United Nations drive to wind up the general assembly by the end of next week.

As the pressure gets stronger—there was a record number of 26 meetings held yesterday and the total is expected to be even higher today—everyone is showing the strain of morning, afternoon, and evening sessions. They are grumping like G.I.s and grumpy putting in the extra hours.

Sales of headache remedies, cigarettes and cigars are spiraling. The clinic and first aid station reports steadily increasing patronage. Strapped ankles and bandaged hands—obviously the result of falls on the slippery corridors—are more and more frequent sights.

Mediation Helps
Albany, N. Y., Dec. 5 (AP)—The State Mediation Board was credited today with helping to end 42 strikes in October, returning about 18,700 workers to their jobs. Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi added last night that the board helped to avert 44 threatened work stoppages involving 12,750 workers.

Daughter Born
A daughter, Priscilla Joyce, was born to Mr. and Mrs. William G. Meyer of Rosendale, at the Benedictine Hospital December 1.

Durocher Charged With Stealing Love Of Laraine Day

Dodger Pilot Denies That He Plotted Against Husband as Friend of Hendricks

Los Angeles, Dec. 5 (AP)—Leo Durocher, center of uncounted baseball tiffs, found himself mixed up in a domestic dispute today, charged with wrecking the home of Laraine Day, beautiful film actress, and her husband, Airport Executive James Ray Hendricks.

Hendricks, in an answer to his wife's divorce suit, yesterday charged the fiery Brooklyn Dodger's pilot "clandestinely pursued the love" of the actress while "posing as a family friend."

To which Leo replied: "There's not a word of truth in Ray's charges—and he knows it."

And Miss Day said: "All the charges are deliberate and malicious lies."

The position rested that, after a series of meetings here, aboard a plane and in Chicago, Durocher, and Miss Day told Hendricks they were in love, and the baseball pilot added he wanted to marry her.

Hendricks said the "shock" of the foregoing events completely overwhelmed him beyond description and words.

Durocher has not conducted himself as an honorable man or gentleman, the answer alleged, adding that Leo "is not a fit and proper person to be associated with for she is only a girl of 26 and he is over twice her age."

The records indicate Leo was 40 last July.

Hendricks, who said in his petition that he still loves the actress, does not ask a divorce, but seeks merely to block her suit.

Her attorney, Bernard Silbert, said in view of Hendricks' answer Miss Day will file an amended suit which "will really tell the whole story."

Norma Talmadge Marries, Ilka Chase Gets Divorce

Las Vegas, Dec. 5 (AP)—This morning, divorcing Nevada city had a balanced ledger yesterday so far as celebrities are concerned.

Norma Talmadge, one of the brightest stars of the silent film days, was married to Dr. Carvel James, well known Beverly Hills, Calif., physician and former navy lieutenant commander.

Writer Ilka Chase, author of "Past Imperfect," was granted a divorce from William B. Murray, 55-year-old New York theatrical agency executive, on grounds of mental cruelty.

Miss Chase said that next Saturday she will be married to Dr. Norton Brown, New York physician, and war-time navy commander. She is the former wife of Actor Louis Calhern.

Miss Talmadge formerly was married to Film Producer Joseph M. Schenck and Comedian George Jessel.

Health for All

High Protein Diet

Medical science is emphasizing more and more the importance of high protein diet in both cure and prevention of disease. Doctors have established its usefulness in wound healing and recovery from shock, fractures, burns and infections. New studies have shown the value of protein in acquiring resistance to disease, in preventing complications of pregnancy and during periods of fast growth among children.

The housewife knows that the best sources of high quality protein: meat, milk, fish, poultry, eggs and cheese—are among the most expensive items on her shopping list. If she is on a limited budget, she should learn that there are less costly foods which can be substituted if meals are carefully planned.

Vegetable proteins such as are found in navy, lima and soy beans, lentils, whole grain cereals and peanut butter, have been considered of less value than meat proteins. However, it has been discovered that a small amount of animal protein combined with vegetable varieties adds greatly to the essential values of the latter. For example, a little meat in a dish of dried beans increases several times the nutritive content of the beans alone.

Considerable use of milk will also enable the meal planner to use more of the low cost proteins when meat is expensive. It is always important in a diet low in meat to select foods such as milk and cheese, which will supply the necessary minerals and vitamins as well as proteins. If fresh milk is too expensive for the budget, or if the family does not like it, the housewife can use dried milk or dried skim milk. This can be added as a dry ingredient to meat loaf, mashed potatoes, cooked cereals, bread, pastries and puddings. Other protein rich foods which can be used in cooking are soy bean flour, peanut flour, dried yeast and powdered eggs.

Following is a good basic diet for an average adult which can be adapted to suit the taste and budget of the family:

- 1 pint milk, or 8 oz. evaporated milk or 1½ oz. (5 tablespoons) dried milk
- 3 oz. serving meat, poultry or fish, or 5 oz. (½ cup) cooked beans
- 1 oz. cheddar or cottage cheese or 1 egg
- 3 oz. (½ cup) cooked peas, navy

or lima beans
3 oz. serving potatoes
3 servings other vegetables, at least one green leafy
2 servings fruit, of which 1 is citrus or tomato
6 slices of bread. Cereal, spaghetti or noodles can be substituted for some of the bread.
In the next article, the pneumothorax treatment of TB will be discussed.

Fox Shoots Himself

When a fox which had killed 13 of his chickens left one of its victims behind in the farmyard, a farmer living near Kilkeel, Northern Ireland, had a bright idea. He loaded his gun, set it in a concealed position with the muzzle facing the dead bird and connected a strong from the trigger to the hen's neck. As expected, the fox, stealing back for the fowl, snatched at it and released the trigger, shooting himself dead.

Ghostly Antics Are Source of Upset For British Family

Langley, Eng., Dec. 4 (AP)—One night last April an 18-year-old girl named June Buckland awoke, she said today, to find a tall, misty figure standing by her bed. She thought it strange but, being a reserved girl, she didn't mention it to her family.

Even so, the family soon got the idea there was something unusual about the 300-year-old house into which they had just moved. Strange knockings were heard. Strange moanings and creakings came out of nowhere.

Then, three weeks ago, June's brother, Jackie, 5, fell sick in the night. Their mother, Florence, got up to attend him. A hand gripped her wrist—and, she said with a worried frown between her eyes, there was nobody attached to the hand.

"Two days later," Mrs. Buckland said in an interview with the British Press Association, "I awoke and there was this misty figure standing by the fireplace. I put my head under the bed-clothes but felt I just had to look again. The figure was still there."

That's the way things have been ever since in the troubled household of the Bucklands in this dreary village near London. Something pulls the bed clothes off sleeping members of the family. Doors open and footsteps are heard—but nobody comes in. Edna Shellock, 10, who lives with the Bucklands, found herself sleeping under the bed one night. She didn't know how she got there.

The British Society for Psychic Research said it planned to send a man around.

From 1914 to 1918, the World War I toll of civilian deaths from air warfare was about 5,000.

State Nurses Ask Higher Pay With Shortened Week

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 5 (AP)—The New York State Nurses' Association seeks higher pay, a shorter work week and other benefits.

The nurses adopted the program yesterday, but decided against setting up a new labor organization to act as a negotiating medium.

Recommendations included: A 40-hour week for institutional staff nurses and public health nurses and a 48-hour week for private duty nurses.

Salaries ranging from $2,160 to $2,760 with annual increments of $120, for institutional staff nurses;

$10 for an eight-hour period for private duty nurses with $2 additional for certain types of illnesses, and a salary range from $2,160 to $7,500 for public health nurses with annual increments from $120 to $300. Two calendar days vacation for each month's work. Establishment of a retirement system by hospitals.

Holiday, or compensating days off. Establishment of a health and sickness benefit program.

State Assistance Brings $20,000

were sent to the Homer Folks Hospital at a total cost to the county of $1,262.50. In that connection the report notes the great service in lung surgery rendered to the county by Dr. Jacobson, previous to his entering the navy. The prior service was rendered by Dr. Jacobson at no personal remuneration. The report states that now on his return the management desires to place him on the staff as a "token" salary of $3,000 per year.

A new state law concerning County Tuberculosis Hospitals requires a full time resident physician and that will add $1,000 to the budget.

The financial statement of Dr. Seeley shows a gross expenditure of $77,037.08 and income from patients of $10,571.95, leaving a net expenditure of $66,465.13 for the year. There were a total of 17,745 hospital days at a gross per capita of $3.34 and a net per capita of $3.75.

Bills payable amount of $4,300, including an item of $1,800 for a new wagon, $2,000 for X-ray equipment and $500 for X-ray equipment.

Continuing his report Dr. Seeley said:

"Increased salaries of nurses must be made. Supplies will cost at least $1,000 more, and hospital service for surgical cases will add $500 to our present expenses. Altogether, our budget for 1947 will amount to $85,000. We should receive state aid, on application of your Board, on the basis of this year's total hospital days and per capita cost of $4.34 of approximately $35,000 to $38,000. This will require our asking your Board for an appropriation of $48,000 or $20,000 less than last year.

The Board is co-operating and accommodating the hospital to the New York state laws governing the operation of tuberculosis hospitals and the superintendent, Dr. Holcomb, in his report to you will give a fuller and more detailed statement of this co-operation."

Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb, superintendent, in submitting his 15th annual report for the hospital devoted considerable of it to the new law which initiates a program of state aid to county and city tuberculosis hospitals, a program which is designed to eradicate tuberculosis from the state by 1965. This law, Chapter 889, amends the Public Health law in relation to care and treatment of persons suffering from tuberculosis. It is a separate act which extends this state aid to those institutions approved by the State Health Commissioner, to the amount of 50 per cent per diem net cost not exceeding $2.50 per patient per day.

Explains Law

In his report Dr. Holcomb explained the law as follows:

"In order to obtain this reimbursement it is necessary that our county Board of Supervisors make application to the State Commissioner of Health who shall require certain information on prescribed forms submitted by him. This act also provides that any county may transfer its title to the property and all lands, building, equipment and all funds, to the state. It also allows the State Commissioner of Health if he later determines that it is no longer economical or advisable to continue operation of said hospital to turn it back to the county.

"If a county has an obsolete or poorly equipped institution or if the operating costs are over $25 per day which is the upper limit for receiving reimbursement, it would seem wise to consider relinquishing or transferring the hospital, but in our case with a modern institution and a reasonable operating cost it would seem more expedient at this time to retain possession of our Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital. The county would be required to pay the remaining 50 per cent per diem net cost as the law now provides, whether the county or state continue operation of the institution.

"With the rising costs of food, fuel and other operating costs, we can only estimate the amount of state aid from our average number of hospital days service. The amount of $25,000 to $38,000 might be considered as a probable figure for state reimbursement. The law is primarily to afford more adequate care to the tuberculous, but it should be of benefit to both patients and taxpayers.

"My report of the medical work as follows:

"The X-ray surveys in the county have been sponsored by the Ulster County Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health have been of great value in the discovery of cases of tuberculosis, as well as assisting in the diagnosis of other heart and lung conditions. Seven 7,000 persons have been included in this program and Miss Murphy and all persons who assist in this work should receive recognition for their contribution to the Public Health program. Christmas sales surely deserve public support.

"The county sanatorium has been utilized to over 90% of its capacity with 17,745 hospital days service.

7,994 patients were X-rayed at 43 clinics and 2,454 X-rays were taken.

73 new cases were discovered.

23 old cases were discharged as healed.

"At present about 90 cases are under active treatment and a total of 451 cases are under treatment in periodic X-ray check-ups in the county. Clinic reports are sent to the cases of patients who are in their homes or discharged to their homes, to the family physicians in attendance.

"Since the outbreak of the last war, our cases for thoracic surgery have been transferred to Homer Folks Hospital at Kingston. Previously, all necessary surgical procedures were done by Dr. Jacobson in Kingston and the patients were able to remain in their own vicinity and receive excellent surgical service. We are Bills reported bills in the amount of $18,693.02. The bills were audited and found correct and were allowed. Of this sum $15,800 was for salaries, $1,224 for compensation for committee work and $1,669.02 for expenses and mileage.

A new account to be known as Deputy Sheriff Expense Fund was created and an appropriation of $300 was made. This fund will be used to pay telephone bills, meals and other expenses of deputy sheriff's when away from the office on official business. In the past such bills were not audited and paid until the annual session and were audited with the "sheriff's account," making it necessary to wait for a year before such bills were paid. Now they may be paid when contracted.

The sum of $3,270 was ordered paid to Harry M. Halverson as balance on his architectural fees for work done on the county building plans. The fee is paid from the Post War Planning Fund which is on hand. This completes the payment, $2,500 having been previously paid on the total bill for $5,770, or one per cent on the estimated cost of the building which is $577,000.

"One more as I have in the past 15 years, I wish to extend my thanks to my co-workers at the hospital. To Miss Elizabeth Kraus, our superintendent of nurses, and her nursing staff; to Mrs. Mary Weber, institutional manager, and our employees in all departments. I feel deeply grateful for their loyal service.

"In conclusion, may I ask for the continued co-operation and unselfish interest that the Board of Managers and the County Board of Supervisors have always displayed in the administration of the county sanatorium. Twenty years ago our annual death rate in Ulster county was at the rate of approximately 110 per 100,000 population. In the year 1945 our death rate was approximately 25 per 100,000. This decline is very encouraging and it would seem that our work has paid good dividends in lives saved and in a greatly lowered incidence of tuberculosis in Ulster county."

"Our members of the County Medical Society have always extended their professional services to patients at the Sanatorium and the moneys expended by the hospital for wages and supplies now remain in our own community.

Prior to the meeting of the Board of Supervisors at which time the reports were submitted, members of the Board of Supervisors and county officials made their annual inspection of the Tuberculosis Hospital. The entire plant was inspected and found to be in exceptionally good condition. At present there are 51 patients in the hospital. At the conclusion of the inspection tour the members sat down to a splendid turkey dinner served in the patients' dining room and the joining employees, supervisors and officials were present at the dinner.

The reports of Dr. Seeley and Dr. Holcomb were filed and referred to the Committee on Appropriations. Later that committee made its report and appropriated the sum of $48,000 for the work during the ensuing year. Last year the appropriation was $68,000.

'No Plans' Says Met For Kirsten Flagstad

New York, Dec. 5 (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera Company said today that "no plans" had been made for an appearance with the company by its former Wagnerian soprano, Kirsten Flagstad, who will come to the United States early next year from her native Norway.

A report from Oslo, quoting passport authorities, said Miss Flagstad had been granted an exit permit and would visit Sweden before coming to this country.

A spokesman for the Metropolitan said that New York friends of the former star had been apprised of her visit. The spokesman added, however, that it was understood to be a social visit and said that the management of the Metropolitan had not been approached regarding a professional appearance by Miss Flagstad.

The former opera star left the United States in April, 1941, for Norway. She was critical of her husband, Henry, a wealthy lumberman, who died last June while awaiting trial on charges of collaborating with the Nazis.

Miss Flagstad is expected to visit her daughter, Mrs. Else Marie Dusenbury of Bozeman, Mont., who has a daughter the singer has never seen.

The Volunteers of America financial campaign will be continued until at least December 15, it was announced today. It is pointed out that it will be necessary to have a full reply to all appeals sent out, if the quota needed to carry on the work here is to be reached.

Washington, Dec. 5 (AP)—The House Campaign Investigating Committee sent two more investigators to New York today to inquire into the election of Rep. Vito Marcantonio, American Laborite.

Play Review

by SYLVESTER HOWARD

"Years Ago" the new play by Ruth Gordon is a comedy that is often very funny. Unfortunately it is not so funny after its leading character is on the stage. Since this character is supposed to be Miss Gordon herself it is curious to find it written so unsympathetically. More young ladies probably want to act than any other class. Miss Gordon shows how she did it.

Life in Wollaston, Mass., was not very lively in the century. Ruth wanted to be an actress but her father thought being a physical education instructor would be more practical. He was originally a seaman, but with a wife and child in found working in a factory more satisfactory. He brought as much of the sea with him as possible including a telescope and salty oaths. He had a loving wife and not such a loving child. Life was hard for him but at least his wife was content. Young Ruth shared her father's feelings about their dreary life and turned her hopes towards the stage. The whole play shows the aspiring actress trying to convince her father to let her act. His main objection seemed to be that she did not look like any actress he had seen. After many attempts to get by a P.T. finally succeeded in getting to New York. The rest of her career is well-known.

Patricia Kirkland has the role of young Ruth. Since both Miss Kirkland and Miss Gordon are actresses obviously people like them get into the theatre. It is hard to believe anyone could be so repulsive. She lets nothing turn her from her goal and she cries because she cannot go to New York. Her boy friend comes to visit and she does not notice he has left. Only the cat escapes her icy blasts. Presumably he has no effect on her plans. This impression comes chiefly from the way the part is written but Patricia Kirkland does very little to give it any warmth or pleasantness. Frederic March has a strange role of the father who at one minute is like a gale and the next is a gentle breeze. Considering his daughter's actions there is every reason for his tempests. But his sudden calms remain a mystery. Only the mother has any real charm. She is a silly woman but not without feeling. Florence Eldridge plays her with grace and humor. The rest of the cast drift in and out of Donald Oenslager's quaint living room merely as punching bags for the violent young actress.

There are many scenes in years ago which are a delight to watch especially the one with father on the telephone. But all through the play it is a tarring tone which makes it less funny than nasty.

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Dec. 5 (AP)—The once popular conception of the Russian as a very huge man with a long black beard and high boots has been debunked numerous times, but this image still exists in the minds of many Americans.

The Russians are not a big people. They always comment on the size of Americans. As a race, Americans are much larger.

Russian men like to wear boots and the Russian cap, of cloth or fur. They do not like hats.

In summertime thousands of Russians wear little gray-colored skull caps but the plain blue serge cap always is in style. In winter, this often is changed to a caracul cap.

Women's hats here, like everywhere else, are unpredictable. They range from somber plain blacks to feathery explosions of color. In winter, many Russians, particularly women from the country, wear shawls over their heads and in summer a handkerchief. But there is brisk trade in modern headgear.

One distinguishing feature of men's suits is the Russian preference for short coats. The Russians also like gay ties and a large loose knot. Stripes are in vogue and a rainbow model gets many admiring glances.

Because of the large amount of rain and snow, rubbers and galoshes are seen on millions of pairs of feet. The ancient valenki, or felt boot still is popular even in the cities, especially in cold weather.

Taking into exception that there wasn't much for the consumer during the war, Russian girls and women dress about like American and English women.

High heels generally are preferred. Lipstick is used, but not much cheek rouge. Complexions here usually are real and blooming.

Women operate the men's barber shops and the beauty shops which are plentiful and always busy.

For entertainment, the city Russian has the theatre and a very good one at that. He has movies, concerts of every kind, public lectures, clubs, dances, restaurants and a lot of sport.

The theatre in the Soviet Union is extremely popular and there are practically no empty seats. The same goes for the movies.

There are no night clubs as such, but many restaurants have floor entertainment and dance orchestras. These restaurants are continuously popular. There are bars and pubs, too. One spacious and resplendent one on one of Moscow's main streets is called "Koktail Zal". Wine is the most popular drink, with vodka, the national liquor, perhaps next, and then beer.

Most of all, I'd say the Russian likes to drink tea. They drink it by the gallons. Talk and tea has been a national pastime for generations.

Sports take up a lot of time. The Russians have soccer, football, hockey, boxing, wrestling, weight lifting, ski racing, jumping, track, water polo, basketball, tennis and plenty of horse racing. There is no baseball or cricket.

Thousands upon thousands of Russians go to church regularly on Saturday night and Sunday morning. All churches are always packed.

The Russians are great readers. Newspapers and magazines play an important role in their daily life. All papers could print thousands of more copies than they do.

Men of the Russian housewife's day is spent in shopping. She must go to the ration store, the open market store, or the peasant market all some distance from one another. This takes time—and money. The Russian man and boy works. When they come home, they expect a good meal.

Russians like to talk and argue, and tell stories. They generally are excellent listeners. They are very social and they like to visit one another.

They have a great zest for holidays. The principal ones are the anniversary of the revolution on November 7, New Year's Eve, New Year's Day, May 1 and Easter. Some attention is paid to the Russian Christmas on January 7, but it is not a real national holiday.

X-ray Surveys at New Paltz College and Kingston High School

Health Program
Paid by Sale of Christmas Seals

About 500 Will Be
X-rayed at Teachers'
College, 400 Seniors
at K.H.S.

Christmas Fund

Christmas Donations
May Be Sent to
Mrs. Holcomb

The Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association is continuing its chest X-ray surveys throughout Ulster county. These X-ray examinations are given free to all residents and the program is financed through the sale of Christmas Seals.

Another in the series of X-ray tests will be held for students of New Paltz State Teachers College and senior students of Kingston High School. On December 10, starting at 8:30 a. m., all seniors at Kingston High School will be X-rayed. It is expected that over 400 pupils will be given advantage of this important part of the health examination.

Most of the 1,183 X-rays taken during the survey on October 7, 8 and 9 have been read by Dr. F. W. Holcomb. As soon as the reading is completed, reports will be forwarded from the tuberculosis and health association office, 14 John street, to every individual X-rayed. Those with negative findings will be notified. Those with significant findings will be asked to see their family physician to whom reports will be forwarded.

Christmas at Hospital
The Christmas season at Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital has for many years been made a happier event because of the generosity of the numerous friends of the institution and of the patients who are receiving their cure at Golden Hill.

Recently a donation of $10 was sent by a former patient who has been restored to complete health and is now working as a registered nurse in California. She states in her letter that, "once more Christmas stands before the door and once more my thoughts turn to the patients on Golden Hill. As time goes on I feel more and more fortunate that I am staying so well and my X-rays bring good reports."
"This patient after more than ten years remembers her Merry Christmas at the Sanatorium. Won't you help with the Christmas fund this year by sending contributions to Mrs. Frederic Holcomb, 138 Fair street, president of the Tuberculosis Hospital Auxiliary."

This Is Route Kellers Followed as Lamplighters

Come snows or high water, lightning, mud, feast or famine, Frank and Peter Keller went their appointed rounds faithfully to light the lamps of Kingston. The tours of these intrepid lamplighters gave our folk beacons to follow over a great portion of the city. They, with another lamplighter, Edward C. Klotz, are symbols in 1946 of the nation's fight against the great white plague, tuberculosis. These men have given their services this year to make the 1946 sales of Christmas Seals the most successful ever.

Edmund P. Rochford, chairman of the Seals drive, said today, "We are most grateful to them for their unselfish service. As men who plied a profession no longer needed they fought blizzards and bitter cold. Today they are giving personality to our constant fight to improve the health of our county. What could be better?" The map of the Kellers' route to light their lamps was prepared by Norman H. Leudtke, through the courtesy of Ulster County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran.

Can't Play Hillbilly Music
So She Sues for Divorce

Washington, Dec. 5 (AP)—Mrs. Katherine Mae Elliott is suing George Elliott for divorce because he wouldn't let her play hillbilly music on their phonograph.

Mrs. Elliott, who is 24, charged cruelty. Her petition said her husband even broke some of the records.

Elliott denied demolishing any discs but said he "sabotaged" em a little with scratches, hoping to steer his wife's musical appreciation into more compatible channels.

"Loan a little to South American music myself," he explained.

Wyatt Bows Out As Official Rather Than End Controls

President Has Ruled Down His Contention Vets' Program Must Come First

Washington, Dec. 5 (AP)—Wilson W. Wyatt bowed out as federal housing expediter today, choosing to resign rather than go along with a White House policy of relaxing controls over the building industry "as rapidly as possible."

The resignation of the youthful former mayor of Louisville was accepted "reluctantly" last evening by President Truman. Its announcement meant the President had ruled against Wyatt's contention that the veterans housing program must be pressed on an "all-out emergency basis."

Mr. Truman did not mention the behind-the-scenes battle which has been going on for some weeks between Wyatt and the heads of other government agencies over the housing program.

But he issued a statement saying that "henceforth the program must be given its proper emphasis in the overall economy and controls must be relaxed as rapidly

Seven Are Charged With Using Bodies To Prepare Sausage

Budapest, Hungary, Dec. 4 (Delayed) (AP)—Police said today that seven persons were under arrest and had confessed to charges of making sausage from human bodies.

Authorities said the suspects acknowledged killing two Hungarian policemen and chopping up the bodies for sausages which were sent to Austria. No date has been set for trial.

Says Objective Unchanged
Mr. Truman emphasized, too, that the objective—housing for veterans as soon as possible—is unchanged.

Wyatt, questioned by reporters, declined any statement except to say that his position "should be obvious" and that he planned to leave Washington at once.

Aides, however, said that the reason for Wyatt's resignation could be summarized as a protest against "business as usual" housing policies within the administration.

Housing officials said they had no information as to the details of which portions of the housing program will continue to be carried on.

Mr. Truman said that Congress would be asked to assist in one of Wyatt's objectives—added rental housing—by provision of financial support for multi-unit low-rent apartments.

As for factory built housing, the President said that government loans and market guarantee contracts would be continued, but that "attention will continue to be given to the merits of the individual project and to the effect upon our entire economy."

One of the obstacles which Wyatt encountered was the refusal of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to grant loans he had recommended for some prefabricated housing manufacturers.

Strict Rationing Could Make Coal Last to March

Washington, Dec. 5 (AP)—A Solid Fuels Administration spokesman said the results of a new inventory of bituminous coal stocks may be released late today.

An earlier estimate, made by Dr. Glenn L. Parker in testimony during the John L. Lewis contempt trial, indicated that the nation had coal for only 37 days at the normal winter rate of consumption when the United Mine Workers went on strike Nov. 20.

Since that time conservation measures have been ordered, and Parker testified that by severe rationing the present supply could be extended to last until March 1.

Lehman May Be Meyer Successor As Bank President

World Bank Possibility Is How Former Governor Is Considered; Has Bank Experience

Washington, Dec. 5 (AP)—Speculation on a successor to Eugene Meyer as president of the 38-nation World Bank centered today on the name of Herbert Lehman.

Lehman, a four-term governor of New York and defeated Democratic senatorial candidate in the November 5 elections, has a background of considerable banking experience and connections.

Another possibility mentioned for the $30,000-a-year tax-free post is Vice President Harold D. Smith, former United States director of the budget whom Meyer took into the bank with him last June.

Meyer's resignation was submitted last night, six months from the day he was appointed. He asked that it be effective Dec. 18 or earlier if a successor is chosen before then.

Meyer, in his letter of resignation to the directors, said he had a mutual understanding with President Truman and Secretary of State Byrnes when they persuaded him to take the job that "I would not be expected to serve indefinitely," but would "launch the bank and get it started."

The letter added that the bank "is now passing from the preliminary work of preparation to the state of operating activities" and "henceforth must be viewed in terms of long-time continuous operations."

Both the letter and the resolution of the directors which accepted it were cordial and mutually expressive of esteem and good wishes.

The 71-year-old Meyer did not say what his future plans except that he will "take a little rest." The Washington Post, of which he is owner, announced that he does not plan to return to its active administration in his former role of editor and publisher.

123 Persons Show Handcraft Work At Holiday Fair

Woodstock, Dec. 5.—A total of 123 consignors from all sections of Ulster county are displaying results of various handcraft at the eighth annual Holiday Fair being conducted by the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen in the Guild headquarters, formerly the Jack Horner Shop.

Each year at Christmastime the Guild offers the work of competent handcraft artists with a twofold purpose: To stimulate the individual who creates the craft and to obtain funds for the continued operation of the Guild.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel the germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION
for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

Each year at Christmastime the Guild offers the work of competent handcraft artists with a twofold purpose: To stimulate the individual who creates the craft and to obtain funds for the continued operation of the Guild.

An official of the Guild said today, "We are in no sense in competition with merchants. The Holiday Fair is essentially an exhibition of achievement and it is our hope that by offering this work for sale the scope of our Guild may be broadened. The Woodstock Guild is operated for all residents of Ulster county, and the increased membership among county folk shows the appeal of our program."

Experience Brings Results
Experience gained from other seasonal shows is having a salutary effect upon Guild sales this year, the same official said. "Our consignors have learned why some things sell, why others don't. Sometimes a little improvement here, addition of a slight detail there results in better, more acceptable handcrafts. In former years there have been 'runs' on certain articles, but this year the sales have been dispersed over a wide range of various items with sales for almost every contributor. All in all our sales this year are expected to run well ahead of 1945. The comparison to date is very good."

Consignors to Guild

Susie Q. Is Going Places for Linda And Jerry Walter

Woodstock, Dec. 5.—The accepted saying, "You never know who lives in Woodstock," was once more brought to light this week when it was discovered that Linda and Jerry Walter, creators of the highly popular and financially promising Susie Q. Smith are Byrdcliffe residents.

Woodstock has long been identified with fine arts, but it also has had its share of successful commercial artists, authors, editors, eminent educators, musicians and those whose livelihood is alien to easel and brush.

That Linda and Jerry Walter have "a way" with their work was borne out by a recent statement picked up from a Fourth Estate journal: "Susie Q. Smith led in sales last month at King Features. . . . Susie has an offer for a try out spot on Kate Smith's radio program. . . . There are now four Susie Q. fan clubs, and a recent survey among New York city kids showed Susie twice as popular with them as any other cartoon panel or strip based on teenagers." Fan mail is part of the deal, too, for Susie Q. A letter sent in from Kingston to the N. Y. Journal American was decorated with hearts with lines expressing radiant appreciation. Signed by Ed Goggin it says, "Dear Susie Q.: I carry a torch for you. In fact I'm so agog I was all through writing before I'd discovered I was using a blue pencil."

Correction, please, Ed Goggin: The pencil was red!

Nile Goes on Rampage
The Nile, to which Egypt owes her fertile lands and the very maintenance of life, turned tyrant again this year, with floods rising to heights seldom exceeded, Cairo reports. Enormous tracts of cultivated lands in the Sudan were inundated. This has been going on for 50 centuries and under a law, passed in 1887, Egypt can call out every able-bodied man for service in watching and strengthening the river banks, day and night.

Gulp Vitamins
Bellingham, Wash. (AP)—Equipping and feeding a college football team is admittedly quite an expense, but there's an extra item on the bill at Western Washington College here. Coach Chuck Lapenbusch, a strong believer in long underwear for gridgers, is also a vitamin enthusiast, so his team gulps down the vitamin pills, at $16 per jar.

Dispute Over Pay May Spread to U.N. And Harm Trieste

Settlement May Become Jeopardized Unless Issue Is Fixed in Few Days

New York, Dec. 5 (AP)—A dispute over who should pay the bills for the proposed new international territory of Trieste appeared likely today to spread from the Foreign Ministers Council to the United Nations Assembly.

Moreover, unless the issue is settled in a few days some diplomats see a possibility that the whole Trieste settlement might be jeopardized by lack of funds to operate the new territory.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin recommended in a session of the Big Four council last night that the U.N. Assembly be asked to authorize the payment of funds for Trieste to cover both the salaries of the governor and his staff and any deficit which might be incurred in the operation of the territorial government. Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov opposed this on the ground the territory itself should meet its own financial needs and he indicated a belief that any deficit might be financed by assessing the cost against private property in the Trieste area.

While there was some hope on the part of diplomats familiar with the council's work that the Big Four would be able to iron out their differences, there was considerable expectation that when they made a recommendation to the United Nations a row might very well break out in the Assembly over using U.N. funds for such a purpose.

Will Have to Fix Decision
A decision will have to be reached before the Assembly completes its work here, however, if money is to be available from that source for making the Trieste territory, in the words of Byrnes, a going concern.

The question of finances is the last unsettled issue in the long debated problem of Trieste. There are several other open questions, however, involved in the Italian and Balkan peace treaties which are yet to be decided by the Big Four foreign ministers before they can count their work on the treaties completed and move on to a discussion of the German peace settlement.

These questions involve chiefly a Russian demand for $10,000,000 in reparations from Italy to Albania, the amounts of reparations to be paid by Italy and Bulgaria to Greece and Yugoslavia, and the percentage of compensation to be paid by Italy for property losses suffered by British and other

United Nations citizens in that country. There also remains a decision on the question of including in the Balkan treaties a British-American proposal to guarantee freedom of navigation on the Danube. Russia is opposed to including a navigation clause in the treaty, although Molotov has accepted the principle of freedom in use of the river.

Indications were that all these questions probably would be resolved in the final round of bargaining in the next day or so.

Was Only Steam Pipes
Investigating pounding in the rooms of the Moose Club, 374 Broadway, at a little before 5 o'clock this morning, police called Tony Erena, who unlocked the door. The officers on checking the building found that the noise came from the heating system, which makes a loud noise when steam enters the pipes.

Parked Car Reported
Investigating a report that a car had been parked all night for two nights in front of the residence of Dr. Irving J. Josephson on Clinton avenue, police found that the license had been issued to Mary Hutter of Kingston, R.D. The sheriff's office was notified and asked to remove the car.

Lenin's Tomb Reopened
Lenin's tomb has been reopened in the Red Square of Moscow and several days a week, long patient lines form to file slowly and reverently through the majestic red granite mausoleum. There lies the embalmed body of the founder of the U.S.S.R. in a glass casket, guarded night and day by immobile Red Army sentries.

Greece Says Yugoslavia Aids Guerrilla Forces

Lake Success, N. Y., Dec. 5 (AP)—Greece charged today that "the whole guerrilla movement against Greece is receiving substantial support from the countries adjacent to Greece's northern boundaries, and particularly from Yugoslavia."

In a 35-page document filed with the United Nations Security Council and made public today, the Greek Government also linked Albania and Bulgaria directly to the disorders along the frontier and called on the U.N. to order an "on-the-spot" investigation.

The complaint charged specifically that:

Groups of men "are being trained and organized in foreign territory" and "are then sent into Greece, together with consignments of war material."

Armed bands or isolated members of such bands "are crossing the boundary lines in both directions under the protection and guidance of the frontier authorities of the neighboring countries."

Greek fugitives from justice and "anarchists are being received and cared for in foreign territory, and are being incited by propaganda to carry on subversive activities in Greece."

Newburgh Man Injured In Highland Car Crash

Charles Hess of 17 Farrell street, Newburgh, was injured about the face Wednesday evening at Highland when his car, traveling south, struck the car of Erik Breder of Ulster Park which was proceeding north. The accident happened about a quarter mile north of the bridge circle at about 7 o'clock. Trooper Austin, who investigated the accident, reported.

Hess was taken to Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, for treatment for lacerations and bruises about the face. He was still confined to the hospital today.

The accident happened on route 9-W opposite Schmidt's Garage. Trooper Austin reported that Hess, proceeding southerly, swerved to the left of the road and applied his brakes and then skidded across the road to the left lane and struck the Breder car. The car then careened off and struck a cable of the fence on the railroad bridge.

Agreement Is Reached

Oakland, Calif., Dec. 5 (AP)—The city of Oakland and A.F.L. leaders today reached an agreement to end a general strike which has strangled commerce in east bay cities for two days. Oakland City Manager John F. Hassler said a return to work order would be given to all union business agents at a meeting today at 10 a. m. (1 p. m. E.S.T.).

100,000 Women Missing

Hamburg, Germany, Dec. 5 (AP)—A British prosecutor said today that 100,000 women who entered the Ravensbrück concentration camp were unaccounted for. His remarks opened a war crimes trial of 20 persons, seven of them German women, and one Swiss woman. All pleaded innocent to violating usages of war by killing allied nationals.

French Crisis Is Deadlocked With Parties' Positions

Blum's Socialists Force Crisis Into Impasse; Reds Won't Back M.R.P. Cabinet

Paris, Dec. 5 (AP)—France's week-long governmental crisis was completely deadlocked today with the current position of rival parties making formation of a new government impossible until there is a concession in some quarter.

The National Assembly was set to try again this afternoon to select an interim French Premier, but success was extremely doubtful.

Former Premier Leon Blum's Socialists forced the crisis into an impasse last night by voting 2,242 to 2,145, with 53 abstentions, not to enter any cabinet that excluded Communists.

Earlier yesterday Maurice Thorez, the Communist candidate for the interim premiership, had been defeated in the national assembly.

Smarting under that defeat, the Communist party announced today it would refuse to support another cabinet headed by the M.R.P. (popular Republican movement), thus tying another knot in the already complex situation.

The only ways out of the growingly serious situation, appeared to be:

Mutual concessions by Communists, Socialists and the M.R.P. (popular Republican movement) of former interim President Georges Bidault which would result in electing an M.R.P. premier.

A rescue move by the radical Socialists in persuading 74-year-old Edouard Herriot, like Blum a former premier, to serve as a compromise candidate.

Coupled With Agreement
Last night's decision by the Socialist National Congress was coupled with an agreement to abstain from voting in today's balloting for the interim premiership in the assembly, in which the Communists will again present Thorez's candidacy.

The M.R.P. had announced it would present an opposition candidate but would await the Socialists' decision before determining whether M.R.P. candidate would be Bidault or former Finance Minister Robert Schuman.

The Socialist stand produced the impasse in forming a new cabinet for these reasons:

M.R.P. might possibly squeeze through with 319 votes necessary to elect a premier, but unless they change their stand, the Communists will refuse to enter his cabinet. So will the Socialists, and the M.R.P. would find itself only theoretically able to govern.

But, unless M.R.P. changes its stand, it will not consent to head government which did not include the nation's largest (Socialist) and third largest (Communist) parties. For the moment, which will last only until mid-January, will be occupied with voting a budget and imposing unpopular new taxes and drastic economies.

Without some giving in all along the line by three big parties, none can form a cabinet.

300 Pickets Surround Grand Rapids Plant

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 5 (AP)—Reinforced picket lines of about 300 persons ringed the strike-bound Metalcraft Corp. plant here today after two clashes Wednesday among police, pickets and non-strikers.

There was no violence this morning, however, as approximately 150 metalcraft employees gathered near the gates but none attempted to enter. The company employs 900.

Following the outbreaks, state C.I.O. leaders notified "Grand Rapids city officials that 'any consequences of unprovoked violence will be your responsibility.'" August Schuele, Michigan C.I.O. council president, warned that the 20,000 C.I.O. members in the Grand Rapids area would be called on to support picket lines if necessary.

Mayor George Welsh responded with a statement that police "must provide protection for those who want to work."

The plant was closed Tuesday over a union shop dispute.

The Kingston Metal Trades Council, as the authorized bargaining agent for employees of the Pilgrim Furniture Company, has applied to the National Labor Relations Board for a union election among the employees.

George E. Yerry Jr., business agent of the Metal Trades Council, said the action was taken following the flat refusal of Pilgrim Furniture to accept the council's proposal for a 90-day status quo period during which a union contract could be negotiated.

Poughkeepsie Fire Damage Over $200,000

Nine families, including 21 children, were made homeless Wednesday by an early morning fire that damaged five houses on Union street, Poughkeepsie. Six other families residing in a nearby house were forced to flee from their homes because of smoke and fear of further spread of the fire.

Firemen who arrived at 2 a. m., following the alarm gave their first efforts to rescue work. One fireman suffered the loss of part of the middle finger of his right hand when he caught it in a ladder as it was being lowered.

The fire is believed to have originated in an overstuffed chair in a second floor apartment of one of the houses. Fire officials estimated the damage at more than $200,000.

Oak Ridger Says AtomPowerCanBe Competitor of Coal

Philadelphia, Dec. 5 (AP)—Atomic power plants can be constructed on the eastern seaboard to compete economically with those using coal if bituminous prices rise as high as $10 a ton, says an executive of the Oak Ridge, Tenn., atomic project.

Dr. Charles A. Thomas, vice president of the Monsanto Chemical Co. and now directing the conversion of the Oak Ridge plant to non-military uses, declared that the present price of $7 a ton, coal is the cheaper form.

But even if technological progress or rising coal prices bring about the atomic power plant, Dr. Thomas said, atomic energy never would wipe out the coal or oil industries. He said it would supplement—rather than supplant—use of these fuels.

The first experimental power plant ever to use atomic energy will be in operation at Oak Ridge by 1948, Dr. Thomas told a lecture group at the University of Pennsylvania last night.

The Oak Ridge unit, he said, costs two and one-half times as much to build as would one using coal, but he added that technological advances would reduce the initial outlay considerably.

Dr. Thomas warned, however, that "in the shadows is the bomb itself" and the question of its future control "imperils all peace-time advances in the use of atomic energy."

An atomic power plant would be most valuable, said Dr. Thomas, in a desolate region such as Alaska. He asserted that one airplane in flight could supply Alaska with enough fuel to operate for two or three years.

Dr. Thomas, one of the men who drafted the fundamental outlines of the Baruch plan for control of atomic power, envisioned atomic energy leading to giant ocean liners operating for more than a year without refueling and to substances which might attack each malignant growth and irradiate cancer.

HOME PLANNING HINTS

Cutting Costs

One way to save money in building your new home is to place the second-story bathroom directly over the kitchen, thus taking advantage of the same plumbing stacks. For this reason, it's also wise to back up the kitchen and laundry equipment along one wall.

Another money-saving device is to keep hallways and other little-used space minimum in size. Remember, every single inch counts in planning the small home! Cutting corners carefully may result in space for an extra closet or so.

Going to build a new home? Remodel an old one? Our Reader Service booklet can help you. Authoritative data on planning, building and financing homes. Many illustrations!

Hollywood Might as Well Give Up; Washington Has Seen Far Better Dramatics

Washington, Dec. 5 (AP)—Hollywood was never like this. John L. Lewis snarling. . . . One of his lawyers, Welly Hopkins, crying "shame! shame!" almost hysterically. . . . Bailiffs hollering, "order in the court! Order in the court!"

For the fireworks, so long absent from the John L. Lewis case, exploded yesterday, with a melodramatic bang.

Hopkins started it: A small, neat, orderly man, Hopkins usually talks quietly, conversationally.

But yesterday he pulled out all the stops, and let himself go. His hair, apparently freshly washed, kept falling over his eyes as he wagged his finger, banged his fist and stamped his foot.

"Shame!" he screamed at John F. Sonnett, the government lawyer who had suggested that the miners' union be fined $3,500,000 for contempt.

At the end of the speech, Lewis unexpectedly got up, shook Hopkins' hand, said something about this being his sentiment exactly. Even though no amateur theatrical star could have acted this scene better, Judge T. Alan Goldsborough appeared unimpressed.

But he told Lewis that if he wished to detail his financial position, before his fine was set, got ahead.

Lewis said he didn't own anything much. A couple of houses. Barely enough to meet expenses.

And here came one of the most dramatic moments any courtroom ever had.

Defiant, scornful, eyes flashing, Lewis literally snarled at the judge:

"But don't let that deter you. You can levy a fine on me any amount you—"

Goldsborough, a mild man, interrupted, mildly. "Don't get into contempt of court, I advise you, sir," he said.

"Sir, I have been adjudged in contempt," snapped Lewis.

"There could be another contempt proceeding," said the judge. Lewis glowered at the judge. The judge peered quietly back at

John L. Lawyers tugged frantically at Lewis' sleeve. Lewis glanced at his lawyers. He looked back at the judge, quietly awaiting Lewis' next move. And then, slowly, reluctantly, he sat down.

Give up, Hollywood. You'll never equal a scene like that.

County Medical Society Auxiliary Has Election

At the second annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Ulster County Medical Society, held Tuesday in the Nurses' Home at the Kingston Hospital, Mrs. Arthur W. Hazenbush was elected president. Other officers named were Mrs. John Olivet, vice-president; Mrs. Edward F. Shea, secretary; Mrs. Frederic W. Holcomb, treasurer.

Dr. Maurice H. Silk addressed the group on what the Medical Society would expect of the Auxiliary.

The Auxiliary is part of a national organization composed of doctor's wives. It is said to be the only Auxiliary of its kind in that it works directly with the Medical Society to express the needs of the medical profession in public relations and in the legislature. Because of this the newly formed organization is anxious that every doctor's wife in Ulster county should join the Auxiliary.

Jane Oeltzschner of Germany, Former Red Cross Worker, Wed to Roland Tonnesen in Mt. Marion

Miss Jane Oeltzschner, daughter of Mrs. Johanna Oeltzschner of Esslingen, Germany, was united in marriage to Roland Tonnesen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thorvald Tonnesen of Mt. Marion Sunday at 5 p. m. in the Mt. Marion Reformed Church. The wedding took place at a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. O. R. Sigmond, pastor of Our Savior's Lutheran Church in Staten Island.

Miss June Tonnesen, sister of the bridegroom, was organist. She also sang "Brenne" and "Calm as the Night." The church was decorated with evergreens and chrysanthemums.

Mr. Tonnesen, father of the bridegroom, escorted the bride. She wore a bridal gown fashioned from white parachute silk, a full length veil attached to a flower hand headpiece and carried white pompons. Mrs. Helen Jacobson, aunt of the bridegroom, as matron of honor wore a pink silk gown with matching headpiece and veil and carried pink pompons.

Austin Tonnesen was best man for his brother. Ushers were another brother, Lloyd Tonnesen and Donald Nelson of Dumont, N. J.

A reception for 60 guests was held at the Mt. Marion Center. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Tonnesen left for a wedding trip to New York city.

For traveling the bride chose a purple velvet dress with black fur coat, black accessories and corsage of white pompons. They are making their home in Mt. Marion.

The bride arrived November 26 from Europe aboard the S. S. Washington. This marked the end of sixteen months of waiting by Mr. Tonnesen for her arrival. They met in May 1945 at Esslingen, Germany while he was serving with the occupation forces. Mrs. Tonnesen was the American Red Cross Civilian Club manager in Esslingen. A French citizen, she had been employed prior to that as a secretary doing liaison non-political work for the French Chamber of Commerce in Paris during the German occupation. She attended the University of Stuttgart, Germany and the University of Luzerne, Switzerland.

Mr. Tonnesen is a graduate of Port Richmond High School and New York University. He served five years in both the army and navy and overseas in both the Pacific and European theatres. He is now proprietor of the Mt. Marion Center.

Miss Peters, Miss Van Der Zee and Mr. Messenger were soloists with the choral groups while attending Kingston High School.

Mrs. William Plimley, who needs no introduction to those who have attended Oratorio Society concerts, will sing the soprano solos: "There Were Shepherds Abiding in the Field; And Lo! The Angel of the Lord Came Upon Them; And the Angel Said Unto Them; And Suddenly There Was with the Angel; and Rejoice Greatly, O Daughter of Zion." The company said there were 2,505 pickets at the height of the mass demonstration. The mass demonstration was by Milwaukee county C.I.O. members in support of the seven month old strike by Local 248, C.I.O. United Auto Workers Union. Chief issues in the walkout include union demand for a minimum of 25 cents hourly wage increase, control of grievance procedure and the question of a union shop.

Mrs. Allen A. Baker Re-Elected President
Of Benedictine Auxiliary at Annual Tea

Mrs. Allen A. Baker was re-elected president of the Benedictine Auxiliary Wednesday afternoon at the annual meeting and Christmas tea of the organization held in the Nurses' Home. Also elected to serve for the year are Mrs. Charles Davis, first vice president; Mrs. James Mathers, second vice president; Mrs. Frank Egan, third vice president; Mrs. Edward B. Loughran, fourth vice president; Mrs. Charles Mullen, fifth vice president; Mrs. Arthur P. Nash, recording secretary; Mrs. Marie Gilpatrick, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Walter L. Foster, treasurer.

The slate of officers was read by Miss Ann Campbell for Mrs. Victor Russo, chairman of the nominating committee and all were elected unanimously. Mrs. Nash, who was recording secretary last year also, gave the annual reports of the secretary and also the treasurer. The balance in the treasury as of December 1 was $250.06. The one large contribution made during the year was $600 to the building fund of the hospital.

Sister Berenice gave her annual report to the auxiliary in which she enumerated the many activities of the group. She also mentioned the annual New Year's Day Tea Dance which the Junior Auxiliary is planning.

Mrs. Mathers as chairman of the auditing committee consisting of Mrs. John Hattmaker and Mrs. Fred J. Fahrick, reported the books in order. It was announced that Miss Ann Campbell would have charge of decorating the hospital for the Christmas season. The January meeting night which would fall on New Year's Day will be changed. At that meeting there will be a film and speaker on cancer.

Following the business meeting, two of the students from the Academy of St. Ursula, gave a short musical program. Miss Roberta Carter played as a piano solo "Sonata Pathetique" by Beethoven, and accompanied Miss Marian Flaherty who sang "Alice Blue Gown" and "Bless This House." Mrs. Vere Nessel was introduced and played several piano accordion selections, the first "Berceuse" from "Jocelyn" and then several requests.

Tea was served at a table set with silver tea service, candelabra with red candles and a centerpiece of poinsettias. Poinsettias were also used to decorate the room. Mrs. Thomas F. Crowley, Mrs. Charles Davis, Mrs. Vincent P. Amatrano and Mrs. Henry J. Bruck assisted by pouring. Refreshments were served by the Misses Betty Dolan, Maureen Davis and Betty Ann Flynn, students from the Academy. Arrangements for the tea were made by Mrs. Victor Russo, chairman, Mrs. Francis H. Law, Mrs. J. Edwin Phelan, and Mrs. Crowley.

Young Brooklyn Boys
Arrived Here, 'Stranded'

Three young boys, who gave Brooklyn addresses, appeared at the Y. M. C. A. about 10 o'clock Wednesday night and asked lodging for the night. The Police Department was notified and Officers Hyatt and McDonough, with the radio car, brought the boys to police headquarters. They gave their names as David Patricia, 14, 819 40th street, Brooklyn; Robert Graddy, 15, 729 41st street, Brooklyn, and John Shea, 12, 4211 8th avenue, Brooklyn. The boys were taken to the Volunteers of America to be fed and put to bed.

The Police Department sent a message to the New York police and at 2:10 received a message from a Mrs. Orrio of Brooklyn. She said that from the description "Robert Graddy" evidently was her son, Joseph Orrio. She said that the mothers of the boys would arrive in Kingston by bus at noon today to take them back home.

Secretary Burton S. Tandy of the "Y" said that the boys told him that they had come to Kingston to visit an uncle who lived in "Jefferson," but found that he had moved. As they claimed to have lost their pocketbook and were stranded they applied at the "Y" for lodging.

Louis XIV of France owned 75 diamond-set buttons.

Lewis Conviction Can Cause Wave of Unrest

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 5 (AP)—The president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor asserts that if the U. S. Supreme Court upholds the conviction and sentence of John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers, "it will bring on the greatest wave of unrest this nation has ever experienced."

James L. McDevitt said A.F.L. members in the Keystone State are "greatly concerned" about Federal Circuit Judge T. Alan Goldsborough's verdict fining the U.M.W. $3,500,000 and Lewis $10,000, adding in a statement that the union "denied President Lewis the benefit of trial by jury as well as sufficient time in which to prepare his defense, contrary to terms of the Norris-La Guardia Act."

Feeling of Union

hind John L. Lewis one million per cent and "they will stay away from the mines until a contract is signed."

Says Credit Stopped

In addition to the $1 and $2 a day fines now being levied on many of the miners under terms of the government contract Lewis declared void, more economic pressure was bearing down on them in some mine communities. Manager R. A. Ruff of the Crozer coal and Coke Company store at Elkhorn, W. Va., said credit was stopped to more than 50 miners yesterday. Other company stores have also stopped or sharply limited miners' credit.

From hard-hit Denver where trees were being chopped to keep people warm to Hamilton, Ohio where a complete fuel-saving blackout darkened the city of 60,000, the nation felt in varying degree the spreading effects of the coal stoppage.

A company of Ohio State Guards rode in police cruisers or stood by the Hamilton armory last night for emergency duty as the city kept street lights dark to extend as long as possible its limited coal supply.

Elkhart, Ind., with only a 10-day supply of coal, planned to close all schools, theaters, taverns and public meeting places, starting at midnight Friday. Under the order of the city's Emergency Coal Conservation Committee, all stores and office buildings will be in operation only from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Churches are permitted to remain open one day a week.

Railroads Cut Service
Meanwhile, the railroads were slashing service to comply with the government's latest conservation orders. The Pennsylvania Railroad today announced a 50 per cent cut in operations, effective Monday but would not estimate the number to be laid off.

H. D. Barber, operating vice president of the Erie Railroad, said the road will discontinue 20 additional passenger trains and reduce freight train operations by about 60 per cent. The additional curtailment will result in the lay-off, Friday and Sunday, of an additional 4,000 employees. Under previous schedule reductions, 450 men had been thrown out of work.

Steel companies, first to feel the effects of the coal strike, planned further drastic cuts in operations as a result of the rail embargo, effective at 12:01 a. m. Friday.

Steel Curtailment

Republic Steel Corp., with approximately 5,000 workers already idle, said operations would be cut back from 65 to 20 per cent by Friday, making additional thousands idle.

Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., announced production had been cut to 30 per cent and might be reduced even more over the weekend. Ten thousand Youngstown workers have been laid off.

In Schenectady, N. Y., an estimated 40,000 employees in one department of the General Electric Company face a pre-Christmas layoff as a result of the soft coal strike and the railroad freight embargo.

The G.E., which operates 93 plants in 17 states, has given no overall estimate of workers to be laid off, but approximately 1,500 have been idled to date at the parent plant in Schenectady. 300 of these were laid off yesterday.

Sharp-Shooting Actress
Dies of Head Wound

New York, Dec. 5 (AP)—A woman who once starred in a vaudeville sharp-shooting act died of a bullet wound in the head early today in St. John's Hospital, Queens.

The woman, Mrs. Virginia Harris, 35, a pretty blonde, was found unconscious on the kitchen floor of their home Tuesday by her husband, Jack, when he returned from work.

Police said they found a .32-caliber automatic pistol on the floor beside her, a bloody towel about seven feet from her and the kitchen walls were smeared with blood. Sergeant Franklin and Royce Sis-Inspector John Appel, of the Queens detectives, said the woman Appel said that suicide was one was known in her vaudeville days as Ginger Royce and that she was a member of the shooting act of they are working.

Several Are Killed In Gratina Fight

Seven Are Seized by Greek
Government in Thrace,
Dispatches Say

Athens, Dec. 5 (AP)—Press dispatches reported today that several guerrillas were killed and seven others, including three wounded, were captured by government forces in an encounter at Gratina, near Komotoni, in western Thrace.

Another press report said a band yesterday blew up a railway bridge at Metalico, near Kilkis, resulting in the suspension of rail communication with Salonika.

A band 300 strong attacked a gendarmerie station at Kalaryta, in Epirus. The fate of seven gendarmes there was unknown.

The Greek parliament adjourned last night "as a sign of national mourning and disgust" that the Foreign Ministers Council in New York had disregarded Greece's request to move her frontier with Bulgaria northward in post-war territorial adjustments.

(Greek Premier Constantinos Tsaldaris took off early today by plane from Shannon, Eire, for New York to protest personally to the United Nations of his country's northern borders. He arrived in Shannon yesterday and was delayed there when his plane developed mechanical trouble.)

Meanwhile, American officials said a prisoner captured by the Greek army in western Thrace and interviewed by both American and British interrogators admitted being "trained at Buljkes, Yugoslavia, to foment disorders in Greece."

The American also said the prisoner, identified as the captain of a leftist band, gave the "first definite confirmation of many reports that Bulgarians are involved with Yugoslavs and Albanians in moving Buljkes-trained agents into northern Greece."

The World Today

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Russia's newest concession—that the veto shall not apply in the operation of any arms control machinery which the U.N. may set up—led to immediate speculation at Lake Success as to whether

Moscow foreign policy might be doing a "right turn."

Most delegates seemed jubilant after Mr. Molotov's statement. Some were looking for a suspected gimmick, but hadn't found it. Coming as it did on the heels of other concessions to the western viewpoint—on Trieste, the Danube, the principle of arms inspection, speeded-up demobilization among occupation forces in Germany—it began to look like Russia might be going to give the peace wagon a real push.

Observers were asking whether the time had arrived when Moscow, finding the troubled waters of the immediate postwar period about fished out, was preparing to give the world a respite from excursions and alarms.

The answer apparently lies in what comes next.

Russia and the other great powers still retain the veto power in the Security Council under which atomic and other armaments control must be organized. If any of them use it to prevent establishment of foolproof safeguards, there will be no real progress toward disarmament.

Meaning Will Be Seen
The meaning of the recent concessions in connection with Russia's over-all policy also remains to be seen. Observers are curious over any connection between Molotov's recent moves and the statement by Stalin, just before the assembly convened, that these problems, such as arms inspection, could be worked out. For a time it seemed that Molotov was pursuing his own course without being too much influenced by what Stalin had said. Now, suddenly, he comes around.

Stalin's policy has always been to build up Russia first, so that she will be truly prepared for her world role. Molotov has been a little more inclined to press for expansion simultaneously with the build-up at home.

Now Molotov refers to worry over Russia's stand for the veto right in connection with disarmament controls as an obvious misunderstanding. Misunderstanding by the west of what all the speeches actually meant? Or mis-understanding by Molotov as to how long Stalin wanted him to hold out?

Reaction Divided Sharply
Reaction today seems to be divided sharply. On the one side are some who suspect that any Russian concessions have an ulterior motive; that, if she is actually dropping her role as a surgeon carving out nice fees for herself among her neighbors, she is only doing so to anesthetize the world for a greater operation yet to come.

Others felt that Russia merely had been holding back through doubt of the sincerity of the other powers; that she felt she must establish, first of all, her own area of security; that she is now more convinced of American altruism, and that she is really going to work on the peace which she needs for reconstruction of her war-wrecked country.

One man who has been in close touch with the whole business seemed to represent the mean. He said: "I guess you can't take any of this stuff at face value too quickly. On the other hand, if a fellow keeps on giving the appearance of trying to do right, you can't keep on questioning his motives forever."

Fishermen Report Japs Resist Soviet Landings

Tokyo, Dec. 5 (AP)—A Japanese fisherman from the rocky island of Paramushiro in the far north Kurile chain told newsmen today the 35,000 Nipponese soldiers and sailors on the island refused to acknowledge the emperor's rescript ending the war but bloodily resisted Soviet lands on the islands in August, 1945.

This was the first light shed on that phase of the surrender. The fisherman, Yoshitaro Kondo, said the commanding officer, a Lieutenant General Tsutsumi, refused the surrender order flashed from Tokyo but commanded his men to resist any "invaders."

Duchess Gives Crown To Queen of Sisters

New York, Dec. 5 (AP)—The Duchess of Windsor, who has more than a nodding acquaintance with royalty herself, placed a star-studded, gold coronet on the head of a queen yesterday, who accepted the symbol with all the royal dignity an awed 4-year-old could muster.

The queen was Victoria Dobrowski, winner over 87 contestants in the 13th annual "Little Sister" beauty contest held at the Tompkins Square clubhouse of the Boy Club of New York.

Applause greeted the unheralded entrance of the Duchess, who acted as one of several judges. Prompted by the nudges of the "Big Brothers," the little girls curtsied, and one teen-aged youth said: "She's used to hob-nobbing with royalty, so watch your manners."

The aptly-named Queen Victoria got a life size doll and other dolls were given little girls for the best smiles, nicest smile, prettiest curls, prettiest eyes and other courtly attributes.

After Queen Victoria was hoisted to a giant, red-cushioned throne, the Duchess, who had taken copious notes, said: "All these children are wonderful. It's hard work, you know, selecting a child beauty contest winner."

Bomb Kills 4 Soldiers
Jerusalem, Dec. 5 (AP)—A bomb explosion killed one to four British soldiers in Sarafand camp today after an unidentified truck penetrated that largest and most closely guarded military post in Palestine. One was known dead, a number of persons were believed injured, and two or three soldiers were missing.

Baruch May Urge Positive Action

the five permanent members of the Security Council had no relation to the work of the commissions.

"Consequently," he said in this highly significant paragraph contained in the U. N. translation of his speech, "it is entirely wrong to consider the matter in the light that any government possessing that 'right of veto' will be in a position to hinder the fulfillment of the control and inspections."

"The control commissions are not the Security Council and therefore there are no grounds whatsoever for saying that any power making use of the 'right of veto' will be in a position to obstruct the course of control. Every attempt to obstruct the control or inspection carried out in accordance with the decisions taken by the Security Council will be nothing other than a violation of the decisions of the Security Council."

Has Fought Since June

Baruch has fought since last June 14—and even before—for establishment of a system of control and regulation of atomic energy which would not be subject to the right of veto in the Security Council.

Russia, for long weeks of debate in the commission, has insisted that inspection would be a violation of national sovereignty and urged instead that atomic energy be regulated by an international treaty abolishing atomic weapons and providing for individual national control of offenders.

Many committee meetings again were scheduled today for the U. N. Assembly, which is trying to complete its work by late next week. Sub-committees on disarmament and Spain, appointed by the political committee after long debate yesterday were called to meet at 10:30 a. m. E.S.T. A third sub-committee charged with drafting an acceptable compromise on the veto question, was called to meet at 3 p. m. E.S.T., at the same time the political committee arranged to meet.

Gainsboro Destroyed

Stratford-on-Avon, England, Dec. 5 (AP)—Fire that swept through the historic Stratford Town Hall early today destroyed a Gainsborough painting valued at $148,000 and damaged several other valuable pictures. The Gainsborough, twelve feet by four feet, was painted in 1765. It showed the famed actor David Garrick, who paid for rebuilding the town hall in 1769, with his arm around a bust of Shakespeare. Stratford's native son, Cause of the fire was not immediately established.

Muslin is named after the city of Mosul, where it was first made.

Football Attendance Hits New Record

New York, Dec. 5 (AP)—College football attendance spiraled toward a new high in 1946 with a survey of 87 leading colleges reporting a 48.4 per cent increase over last year, topped by Michigan's 514,579 count at its Ann Arbor stadium.

On the basis of the Wolverines' gross of $1,121,000, big time football drew well over $22,000,000 at the box office with at least 20 bowl games still to be added.

Crowding Michigan for top honors was the University of Pennsylvania which attracted 502,000 for seven games at Franklin Field in Philadelphia. They were the only colleges to better the half million mark.

Next in line among the first 10 in home drawing power were Ohio State, 467,000; Iowa, 467,000; Minnesota, 426,913; Tulane, 385,430; Southern California, 297,119; Northwestern, 289,000.

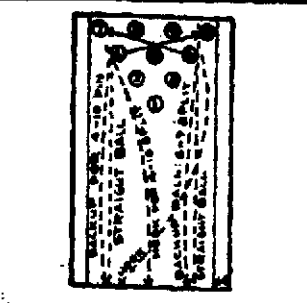

Grid interest showed the sharpest spurt in the south where a 58 per cent increase was noted in a survey of 26 schools drawing 2,528,032. Tulane, Louisiana State, Miami and Georgia were among the pace-setters.

Oklahoma to Florida

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 5 (AP)—The University of Oklahoma will meet North Carolina State in the New Year's Day, Oklahoma's acceptance of the bid was announced yesterday. N. C. State accepted Sunday.

Better Bowling

By BILLY SIXTY

WIDE SPLIT ANGLES: Next to a string of strikes, the big spectator thrill is to see wide splits cut down, such as the 6-7 or the 4-10. To see them made has the same effect as the knockout punch in boxing, the kill shot in handball, or the long putt in golf.

Of all the thrills I've had on the alleys, the two that stand out most distinctively in my mind came in the final game of the five-man event in the American Bowling Congress tournament in Chicago in 1929. I made the 6-7 split twice.

Both splits call for a very thin hit to slide the object pin across the alley, and to do this it is important that the ball be delivered from the right angle.

In shooting the 6-7, the straight or backup ball should be delivered from approximately the center of the alley, (see illustration), fully at the No. 10 pin spot. Speed isn't required, although a medium or fast ball will naturally have more "nudging" power than a slow ball.

The hook bowler should move beyond the middle of the alley and aim for the right side of the No. 10 spot with as much speed as possible to prevent the ball from hooking or breaking to the left. In that case it just isn't possible to nip the No. 6 thin enough on the right side to slide it over and get the No. 7. Speed is by all means necessary with a hook.

To make the 4-10 (see illustration) the ball should be aimed at the No. 7 spot from the middle of the alley (hook) and left of the middle (straight ball or backup).

Jackson Gets Trophy

Boston, Dec. 5 (AP)—Levi Jackson, Yale's great Negro freshman fullback, was presented the George (Bulger) Lowe Trophy last night, an award made annually by the Boston Gridiron Club to New England's outstanding football player. Jackson not only is the first member of his race to be selected as the section's best football player but also is the first freshman to be so honored. Lowe, a starting football player at Arlington (Mass.) High School, Phillips Exeter Academy, Lafayette and Fordham, was a wounded veteran of World War I and died eight years ago.

Skidmore Takes to Court

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Dec. 5 (AP)—Skidmore College, exclusively for women until this semester, filed its first male basketball team last night and lost, 34 to 32, to Albany College of Pharmacy. The game was the first of a series of basketball games between the two schools. Skidmore played the first football game in its history last fall, a scoreless tie with Brown Prep School.

Pep Agrees to Fight

London, Dec. 4 (AP)—Promoter Jack Solomons announced tonight that Willie Pep, world featherweight boxing champion from Hartford, Conn., has agreed to defend his crown against British titleholder Vel Tavelton here January 28. Pep and his manager, Lou Viscusi, would arrive in England early in January, Solomons said.

Assault Is Given Top Horse Rating

Becomes First Steed to Win
More Than $400,000
in One Season

New York, Dec. 5 (AP)—In a poll that was the first unanimous vote in the history of the balloting, Assault today was named king of the three-year olds and "horse of the year" for 1946 by the sports writers of the nation.

The clubfoot triple-crown champion of the Derby, Preakness and Belmont and first horse in history to win more than $400,000 in one season of galloping was the unanimous choice as three-year old boss among the 174 writers voting in the 11th annual poll of the Turf and Sports Digest Magazine.

Then the chocolate champ from Texas went on to take the horse-of-the-year honors by a 3 to 1 margin over Warren Wright's Armed—110 votes to 37. Armed, greatest gelding the turf has ever seen, probably would have been tabbed head man, after a remarkable running and weight-carrying record for the year, if he hadn't "tailed off" in the late fall.

There was little doubt about any of the divisional champions they were Education among the two-year old colts—a $6,600 yearling buy who won $164,473 for Mrs. Fred W. Hooper of Jacksonville, Fla.; Sonny Whitney's First Flight, winner of the Belmont Futurity and $134,965, among the two-year old fillies; Assault, for the three-year olds and Armed among the older handicap horses.

Five horses split up the 174 horse-of-the-year votes. The turf's biggest bargain baby, Symie, born on the same King ranch of Texas that Assault calls home, came in with 15 to take third place. Mrs. George D. Widener's Lucky Draw, the year's top comeback in sports, polled 8, and First Flight drew 4.

There is no doubt that Assault's fall comeback to whip Symie and Lucky Draw in the Pimlico special and Westchester handicap, after a mid-summer slump, won him the horse-of-the-year prize. Altogether he wound up with eight victories in 15 starts and a total of $428,695 in money-earnings which, with his two-year old bankroll, put him in third place among the turf's all-time breadwinners with $445,945.

Baseball Activity Is Picking Up In Yearly Sessions

Los Angeles, Dec. 5 (AP)—After a slow start, baseball trading activity appeared to be picking up today as the major leagues opened their off-season meeting, cross-town from the minor circuit sessions.

While announcements might not be made immediately, it was considered certain that a number of important deals were cooking.

Latest candidate for the coveted job of Los Angeles manager is Charles (Red) Ruffing, New York Yankee fixture. The big pitcher got his outright release after injuring a knee. Indications today were that Billy Jurges, mentioned for the berth, probably would remain with the Chicago Cubs.

The Cincinnati Reds signed long George Kelly, major-league player and coach, as a coach, and Cleveland sold second baseman Lambert (Dutch) Meyer to New York.

The moving of Meyer, who batted .292 in 130 games in 1945, was believed connected with the previous Yankees-Cleveland trade whereby the Indians received Joe Gordon for Alie Reynolds. New York is a Yankee farm.

The Yankees also figured indirectly in the signing of Jim (Milkman) Turner as Portland manager. The coast league club announced a one year contract for the former relief hurler who managed Beaumont, Tex., another Yankee farm, last year. An informal Yankee-Portland tie-up was indicated.

In Trading Negotiations

Los Angeles, Dec. 5 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers and the Boston Braves today were reported in trading negotiations involving five Dodgers and two Boston players including the Bums' prized bench-sitting infielder, Stan Rojek.

While officials of both clubs declined comment, it was reported the Dodgers wanted first baseman outfielder Johnny Hopp and infielder Nanny Fernandez.

Included in the negotiations were Rojek, who hit .272 in 70 games last season, southpaw pitcher Vic Lombardi, third baseman Bob Ramazotti and either first baseman Ed Stevens or Howie (Stretch) Schultz.

Peeve Reese more or less hogged the infield score for the Dodgers last season, and Rojek, said to be the object of at least six major league overtures, couldn't get into the lineup often.

The Braves want to substitute outfielder Tommy Holmes for Hopp in the deal, and the reports said that if Brooklyn took Holmes—who hit over 300 a couple of seasons ago, pitchers Hank Behrman and Al Branca would be tossed in.

Ted Schroeder Advances

Melbourne, Dec. 5 (AP)—Ted Schroeder took another step forward in his campaign for berth on the American Davis Cup team today when he defeated Australia's Bill Sidwell in the semi-finals of the Victorian Tennis Tournament.

6-3, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4. Australia's champion, Jack Bromwich, won the other semi-final, defeating Gardner Mulloy of the United States, 6-0, 6-4, 7-9, 3-6, 6-4. Mulloy put up a terrific battle after losing the first nine games and pulled up even at four games apiece in the final and deciding set before Bromwich scored.

Perru now produces all the cement required for its central area.

In The Pocket

CHARLIE TIANO

The death of a Port Jervis high school football player and the disgraceful "riot" that followed the Kingston-Newburgh game on Thanksgiving Day shrouded traditional climax day in the DUSO League in overtones of tragedy and dishonor.

The following article written for sports editor Howard Defreitas by Brad Boyle of the Middletown Times-Herald is such an outstanding commentary on the death of William Goodfellow, of Port Jervis, that we are reprinting it. Mr. Boyle wrote:

"The critical injury of William Goodfellow, Port Jervis High School football player in this year's annual Thanksgiving Day game with Middletown is admittedly unfortunate. But the Goodfellow injury may serve a salutary purpose in pointing up the head-in-a-hole attitude of some regional schools with regard to the availability of competent medical service at athletic contests.

"A review of the events immediately surrounding the Goodfellow case is imperative. When Goodfellow collapsed during the game, no physician came on to the field to examine him. Instead, he was examined by Al Chase, the Port Jervis coach, and removed from the game. Mr. Chase, like most of the athletic coaches in the region, has only a rudimentary knowledge of medicine.

"Then Goodfellow was carried from the field, despite an obvious head injury, he was lugged from the field like a sack of meal, without even being put on a stretcher. There is a simple rule in first aid which prohibits moving any patient until his injury has been diagnosed by competent medical authority. Moving of a patient often leads to serious consequences, and the practice is particularly bad when it is done by untrained help, and especially without a stretcher or an ambulance.

"A hasty search of the by-laws of the New York State Public High School Athletic Association fails to reveal any provision for compulsory medical supervision at athletic contests. Nor does the DUSO League, so far as we know, have any rule requiring the services of a physician at athletic contests. Instead, the players are covered by a system of insurance. The insurance is a fine idea but it certainly falls into the locking-the-barn-after-the-horse-is-stolen category.

"Players in these contests have the right to expect competent medical supervision will be immediately available should it be required. Their parents and relatives have the right to expect this same elementary safeguard, whether it is ever used or not.

"This is no criticism of sports or of sports participation. Someone is bound to spring forth immediately with the retort that there is no more likelihood of injury in an athletic contest than there is in falling down stairs in your own house, or of being struck by a car while trying to cross the street. And, they will argue, no person has a physician trotting around behind him, ready to render immediate assistance to the victim of a fall or highway mishap.

"That observation is perfectly true. It must be remembered, however, that participation in any athletic contest is unnatural to the human body, and can't be classed with walking up or down stairs or going across a street. Moreover, if it were possible to foresee accidents, cemeteries wouldn't have their annual bumper crop of mishap victims.

"Certainly parents and athletic contestants alike should insist, shouting their insistence from the house tops, if necessary, that competent medical supervision be made compulsory at all athletic contests.

"This lack of supervision can't be explained away by the theory that schools have no funds to expend on such items. Any athletic contest, whether it be professional or amateur, depends on box-office appeal. Without performers, there would be no box-office. Protection of that box-office appeal is a fundamental economic principle."

Well spoken, Mr. Brad Boyle.

The disgraceful conduct of high school "exhibitionists" following the Kingston-Newburgh contest will leave its scars. It will not lead to rupture of athletic relations between the schools but it points up food for thought for future years. A repetition of that unsavory mob scene might not be passed off so lightly next time.

There is nothing in the healthy rivalry between K.H.S. and N.F.A. that could have engendered such a bitter aftermath to Kingston's well-deserved victory. There was nothing in the game itself that could have aroused either side to such fanatical, vengeful fury. It was a bone-crushing, cleanly fought game, that was a tribute to the young American boys who played it.

The Newburgh police magnanimously placed the blame on Newburgh partisans. Posterity will forget that phase of the brawl, it will perpetuate only the fact that back in 1946 they had quite a mess in Newburgh.

The whole mess should be forgotten—but quickly. Irresponsible, high school exhibitionists are difficult to handle. The police, the parents and friends of these showoffs apparently can't do it. Their contributions to the mediocrity of some segments of ill-bred American manhood however, should not be permitted to soil a football institution that is honored and highly prized in two cities.

Disability Law, 40-Hour Week Is Sought in State

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 5 (AP)—Enactment of a statewide disability benefit law and of a minimum wage and hour law, with a minimum 40-hour week and hourly wages "in excess of 65 cents," are sought by the State Federation of Labor.

These proposals top the federation's 1947 legislative program drawn up by the federation's executive council yesterday.

The disability benefit proposal, details of which are yet to be worked out, would provide a maximum 26 weeks' payments for workers incurring illnesses or disabilities in other than their regular employment. Secretary-Treasurer Harold C. Hanover said.

Other recommendations: A halt to pre-employment physical examinations. Lowering of the legal voting age from 21 to 18 years.

Establishment of a New York State University.

Application to tax exempt institutions of a state law prohibiting discrimination.

Haircuts now cost $50, Chinese currency, in Chungking, China.

Albany Students Get Pre-Christmas Gift

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 5 (AP) — Junior high school pupils in two Albany schools got word today of a pre-Christmas gift — 35 minutes less of classes.

The students currently attend classes from 9 a. m. to 3:30 p. m., with 25 minutes for lunch. Effective Monday, school will be let out at 2:55.

The cut in hours had nothing to do with fuel conservation. The Board of Education found the hours "unnecessarily long," and the students "overworked."
